Marines Fight Off Fierce Assault At Da Nang Air Base

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — A company of U.S. Marines, outnumbered four to one, fought off a fierce attack early today on the fringes of the Da Nang Air Base where Viet Cong suicide squads destroyed 18 helicopters and damaged 22 others two days ago.

The Communist assault was spearheaded by a company of Viet Cong regulars with three guerrilla companies in reserve. UPI correspondent Martin Stuart-Fox reported from the area that the Viet Cong hit with automatic weapons, 57mm recoilless rifles, mortars and grenades.

The Marines, part of the 1st Marine Division, were camped about one mile west of the airbase when, at 2:20 a.m., the Communists hit from the west-southwest.

The Marine company was hit by between 50 and 70 mortar shells. An official said American casualties had not yet been determined but they were described as "light and moderate."

FIRE ON PLEI ME

Viet Cong guerrillas just to show they were still in the area, lobbed 10 mortar rounds at the American Special Forces camp at Plei Me during Friday night, a military spokesman said.

There was no report of casualties and apparently little damage at the camp which, with the help of American airpower, recently fought off two regiments of North Vietnamese troops assigned to the Viet Cong in a week-long battle. U.S. officials disclosed Friday that six U.S. paratroopers patrolling near the port of Qui Nhon were killed and three wounded when hit by shells from their own artillery.

A military spokesman said a patrol from the 101st Airborne Division moved into the line of fire while trying to make contact with guerrilla elements in the Song Am Valley.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force planes pounded Viet Cong concentrations in two areas near Saigon Friday and ranged the length of the country supporting ground operations. Air Force A-1E Skyraiders screamed out of the skies and blasted the "iron triangle" jungle sanctuary that guerrilla forces use for mounting attacks on the capital's defenses.

Such raids usually are accompanied by ground sweeps but there was no immediate report of troop action. A military spokesman said only that the operation was continuing.

Comet Can Be Viewed During Early Morning

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Amateur astronomers throughout the Northern Hemisphere will be able to view comet Ikeya-Seki during early morning hours at least through Sunday, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said Friday.

A Smithsonian spokesman said the newly discovered comet and its 75 million mile long tail will be visible to the naked eye — weather permitting — about an hour before dawn at a point low on the southeastern horizon.

The Smithsonian said the comet will continue to be visible through telescopes and binoculars next month as it moves farther away from the Sun.

Big Spending Dims Chance For Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal spending could increase as much as $10 billion to $13 billion in 1966, dimming chances for any new tax cuts, government experts said Friday.

This would be the largest increase in federal outlays for any year since the Korean War. And it would all but assure that the federal budget put as much money back into the economy as it took out.

TAX CUTS UNLIKELY — Further tax cuts would be unlikely, should the estimate prove out, unless the economy grew weak, officials said.

The spending estimate was put together informally by economists in various government departments in an effort to find out how the federal budget might affect the economy next year. It must be qualified in three ways:

— The experts were "just guessing" about President Johnson's budget for fiscal 1967, which doesn't go to Congress until late in January. One of the big unknowns is how much Johnson will decide to spend on the war in Viet Nam.

— The $10 billion to $13 billion increase would be in total federal spending, including Social Security and other trust fund outlays. One official said he didn't have "the vaguest notion" what would happen to the so-called administrative budget, which is most familiar to the public.

— The spending estimate is for calendar 1966 and thus cuts across the current fiscal year, which ends next June 30, and fiscal 1967, which begins July 1.

Increased Social Security benefits and Medicare payments are expected to add between $4 billion and $5 billion to federal outlays in 1966. Johnson's Great Society programs could come to an additional $2 billion to $3 billion, depending on how fast he decides to launch new programs.

A $4 billion to $5 billion increase was projected in defense spending, purely on the basis of current trends. Officials admitted that defense spending could go higher, although the administration has taken pains in recent weeks to play down this buildup.

Halloween-Aid To Youths

As psychologists sometimes say, there's a reason for everything, and Halloween—being observed for "Trick or Treat" purposes today—is no exception.

Halloween, in the words of a local psychologist, presents an opportunity for the small fry—perhaps for large fry, as well—to identify with the "World of the Unreal." For one night, in their little minds, they really are the Frankenstein monster, or some other evil spirit, spreading "terror" through the neighborhood.

Halloween, in a word, becomes an outlet for everyday fears and frustrations.

And if this is so, the fears will flow as on no other night of the year. For tonight is, indeed, the night, as the Twin Cities make their Spook-O-Rama a day early, to avoid a Halloween on the Sabbath.

Looking at it objectively,

Constitution Of Rhodesia Threatened

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — Rhodesia today rejected a British proposal for a royal commission to draw up a new constitution for independence.

The Rhodesian government instead proposed the appointment of a joint royal commission to decide only whether the 1961 constitution — with adjustments to make the country independent — was acceptable to the nation.

The Rhodesians proposed that the joint royal commission consist of Rhodesian Chief Justice Sir Hugh Beadle and two other members, one Rhodesian and the other British.

FINAL ACCEPTANCE

A Rhodesian statement said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson has made it clear he must secure his government's acceptance of the Rhodesian proposal. Final acceptance can be expected during the coming week, the statement said.

The Rhodesian statement followed a day of confusion as Wilson and Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith sought to save the independence talks from collapsing.

Wilson made plans to leave for home today without appearing to have made much gain during a week of "last ditch" talks aimed at averting Rhodesia's threatened Unilateral Declaration of Independence (UDI).

But the royal commission proposal which followed a late night session between the two leaders appeared to leave the door open for still another round of discussions on independence.

5-Term Mayor Of St. Joseph Dies; Rites Set

ST. JOSEPH (Special) — Mayor Oliver Newton Wilds, 65, died Friday afternoon at his home here of an apparent heart attack. He was serving his fifth term as this Tensas Parish town's mayor.

A Requiem Mass will be held at St. Joseph Catholic Church at 9 a.m. Monday. Burial will be at Natchez City Cemetery.

A 35-year resident of St. Joseph, Mayor Wilds was a native of Wildsville in Concordia Parish. He was a vice-president of the Louisiana Municipal Officers Association and also of the Lovely Louisiana Tourist Association. He was a prime mover behind the creation of the St. Joseph Port Gibson ferry across the Mississippi River.

He recently launched a city drive to restore the town to its early charm in hopes of attracting tourists to the community.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eunice L. Wilds of St. Joseph; one son, Oliver Jr. of Austin, Tex.; one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Myers of St. Joseph; one step-daughter, Mrs. Louis Berdos Jr. of Conroe, Tex.; and one sister, Mrs. L. P. Abernathy of Monroe.

Southern Counties Receive More Federal Registrars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach stepped up his efforts under the 1965 voting rights act Friday by ordering federal registrars into 12 more Southern counties.

It was the largest number of counties designated at one time so far, and boosted to 32 the total of counties where special registrars have been called on to list eligible voters under the voting rights law signed Aug. 6.

South Carolina was added to the list for the first time — Clarendon and Dorchester counties. Other states and counties where registrars were dispatched are:

IN WEST FELICIANA

Mississippi, 6 — Jefferson, Neshoba, Hinds, De Soto, Holmes and Walthall. Populous Jackson, the state capital and often a focus of civil rights activity, is in Hinds County.

Alabama, 3 — Elmore, Autauga and Greene.

Louisiana, 1 — West Feliciana Parish.

Previously, Katzenbach had dispatched registrars to nine counties in Mississippi, seven in

National Police Hit Union Meet

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — National police Friday sprayed a union meeting with machine gun fire, killing four persons and wounding nine others at a sugar mill on the outskirts of Santo Domingo, a union leader said.

The union leader said the police gave no warning before firing into the Ozama Sugar Mill office.

There have been complaints that registration of Negroes has been discouraged by limiting the time registration offices are kept open.

"Where masses of unregistered citizens are seeking to register for the first time," Katzenbach said, "local registrars must take the necessary steps to meet this new demand promptly."

The registrars being sent into the 12 counties will set up operations early next week and begin listing voters immediately, Chairman John W. Macy of the Civil Service Commission said.

The latest prior designation of registrars was Oct. 1, when Montgomery County, Ala., became the first big-city area selected.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., issued a statement saying federal registrars are not wanted, needed and not welcome in any county in his state.

"The registration procedures used by Dorchester, Clarendon and other South Carolina counties have already been liberalized to meet demands which in many cases were unreasonable and unwarranted," Thurmond added.

"This action is an exercise of raw power. It is an abuse of discretion by the administration in a program to perpetuate itself in office."

Fair And Mild Forecast Here

Chilling early morning readings Friday were followed by warming sunshine, with the temperature extremes reported by FAA at Selman Field at 43 and 76.

Today's forecast calls for fair skies, a mild day and a rather cool night. Highs today should be in the range between 72 and 76 degrees and the low should fall to 40 to 45 degrees, predicts the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Winds today should be variable at five to 15 miles an hour.

Signals Felt On Montana Seismograph

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — The United States exploded an 80 kiloton thermonuclear device 2,300 feet below the surface of this low, treeless Aleutian island Friday.

A Department of Defense spokesman called the shot "a perfect success." It was designed to help distinguish nuclear blasts from natural earthquakes.

In Washington, the Pentagon said a government seismic detection station in Montana, 3,200 miles from Amchitka, received signals from the underground explosion.

WITHIN 8 MINUTES — The signals were received at the Montana station eight minutes and 29 seconds after the explosion, called "Long Shot," was set off.

The blast was also recorded on seismographs in Alaska, Washington and California.

A message from the observation station on Amchitka over an emergency line to a Department of Defense spokesman at Adak in the Aleutians gave this description of the explosion:

"There was no audible noise from the shot to someone not equipped with geophone receivers. They heard noise, but it was probably attributable to the movement of the building and not to the detonation."

"There was no definable picture on television cameras aimed at 'ground zero' at the time of detonation. It was as though someone bumped the set."

"Everyone in the command post is pleased. There is an air of confidence that everything went well."

The blast was not felt at Adak, 160 miles east of Amchitka.

The Defense Department spokesman said measuring instruments picked up no sign of unusual radiation. There were no reports of any harm to the island's sea otter herds, which were frightened out to sea with noise bombs and aerial flares earlier in the week.

The seismograph at Alaska Methodist University recorded the shock for 160 seconds, beginning four minutes and 28.6 seconds after detonation. About seven minutes after the blast, the Mt. St. Michael's seismograph in Spokane, Wash., registered about a four on the Richter scale. The University of California at Berkeley recorded it at 5.5.

In Pasadena, Calif., the California Institute of Technology recorded the blast 8 minutes and 26 seconds after it went off. But Dr. Charles Richter, the seismologist who invented the Richter scale, said it does not apply to nuclear disturbances. He declined to compare the shot to a natural tremor. The disastrous south-central Alaska earthquake of March 27, 1964, had a magnitude of 8.3 on the scale.

The test had been delayed since Wednesday by unfavorable weather.

Preliminary results of the test may be known in a day or two; complete analysis will take months.

There was no secrecy in Project Long Shot. Scientists on both sides of the Iron Curtain were notified in advance and invited to record the effects.

One benefit from the $10 million test may be support for the American position on an international nuclear test ban treaty. This country holds that an effective treaty must provide for inspections at suspected nuclear test sites.

Johnson Throws Support To Beame

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson "strongly and enthusiastically" declared support Friday for Democrat Abraham D. Beame in the New York City race for mayor. He predicted the Democrat would win by "a significant margin."

Presidential Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers also made it clear that the President backs all Democratic candidates in local and state elections next week, although he underlined Johnson's support for Beame.

Tossing his powerful political weight behind Beame's candidacy just four days before the Tuesday election, Johnson acted — as a spokesman put it — to correct "misrepresentations and misinterpretations" of his prior silence by Beame's foes.

The question of Johnson's support had loomed large lately in contest for mayor of the nation's largest city. It will be the most closely watched election in the country Tuesday because it pits Beame, an old-line Democrat party man, against a young Republican who refused to back Barry Goldwater for president in 1964 and is trying to put a more liberal brand on the GOP.

The Republican candidate, Beame's principal opponent, is Congressman John V. Lindsay, who also is the candidate of the Liberal party. A third conten-

$3 Million Is Given Walker In Libel Suit

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was awarded a $3-million libel judgment Friday against The Associated Press and the New Orleans Times-Picayune Publishing Corp.

An all-male Caddo Parish — county — Civil Court jury deliberated one hour and 55 minutes in deciding that Walker was libeled in an AP account of his activities during the 1962 desegregation riots at the University of Mississippi.

Defense lawyers immediately moved in court to have the jury's verdict set aside and also moved for a mistrial, on grounds that the awards exceeded the amount of $2,250,000 in damages alleged in Walker's complaint.

Dist. Court Judge William Woods reserved decision on the motions and discharged the jury. In his instructions to the jury, Woods had declared, "No one may recover more for any item of damage than the amount sued for."

The AP said any judgment lodged against it will be appealed.

It was the second award Walker has won as an outgrowth of the University of Mississippi riots. The Associated Press, as sole defendant, currently is appealing a $500,000 libel judgment outstanding in Fort Worth, Tex., in favor of Walker.

Similar suits filed by Walker against The Associated Press and newspapers in these cities have been dismissed in Denver, Kansas City and Louisville.

Walker, 55, claimed The Associated Press falsely described him as assuming command of Ole Miss rioters Sept. 30, 1962, and leading them on a charge against U.S. marshals. Two persons were killed in disorders that arose over the admission to the university of Negro James H. Meredith.

The Times-Picayune Publishing Corp. was named in the current suit because its newspapers in New Orleans carried the AP riot story under an Oxford, Miss., dateline.

The trial began Oct. 11.

The jury found against the defendants "solidly." Judge Woods explained that this means either or both may be held responsible for the full amount of the judgment.

Nine of the 12 jurors were required to be in agreement in order to return a verdict in the case, which went to the panel at 1:50 p.m.

Canterbury Cathedral Desecrated

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Ancient Canterbury Cathedral was desecrated with red and blue paint in furious reaction Friday to the archbishop's statement that force might be justifiable in Rhodesia.

"It looks like the work of a madman," said one cathedral official.

The word "Peace" was daubed in huge red letters across a tapestry behind the high altar. St. Augustine's stone chair, on which many of Canterbury's 100 archbishops have been enthroned over the centuries, was reported badly damaged. Legend says this cathedral treasure dates back to the 13th century or more. The nearby tomb of Edward, the Black Prince, 14th century warrior son of King Edward III, was sprayed in blue paint. A lectern Bible was streaked with red paint.

Cathedral officials discovered the damage immediately after an early morning communion service, held in a crypt below. They called the police and closed the building to visitors.

Dr. Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury and primate of the Church of England, was in London at Lambeth Palace, his official residence.

"Such vandalism is clearly the work of thoughtless hooligans which can serve no useful purpose," a spokesman said.

In a speech before the British Council of Churches at Aberdeen, Scotland, Tuesday, Dr. Ramsey said that if the British government were to use force in the white Rhodesian government declared independence, "then as Christians, we have to say that it will be right to use force to that end."

That statement raised shrill protests in Rhodesia and in England, including some from church groups.

Dr. Ramsey's spokesman said the archbishop would go to Canterbury to attend his diocesan conference today. He is due to preach in a small village church near Canterbury on Sunday and unlikely to appear at any cathedral services. When in Canterbury, the archbishop lives in the old palace, within the high-walled cathedral enclosure. He is there most weekends.

Most of the damage took place in the cathedral's trinity chapel. The vandals obviously had a good knowledge of cathedral routine. They chose a moment when few officials or pilgrims were in the building and most clergy were at the half-hour early communion service.

The Very Rev. Ian White-Thomson, Dean of Canterbury, said: "We cannot protect ourselves from things like this. There has been desecration all down the ages. The only thing would be to close the church and we cannot do that."

The archbishop, 60, spiritual head of the Church of England, has been under hot attack by both left and right because of his Rhodesia pronouncement.

The Presbyterian Church of Scotland, which was represented at the Aberdeen meeting, publicly withdrew its support.

Gemini 7 Space Craft Assembled

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Keyed-up rocketmen assembled the Gemini 7 space machine Friday to kick off an all-out effort to have four American astronauts rendezvous in space before Christmas.

The powerful Titan 2 rocket that will head the twin-launch space spectacular took shape before daybreak. The capsule designed to keep Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell aloft for 14 days was hoisted up in the late afternoon.

The Gemini 6 pursuit ship that will be piloted by astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford was resting in its cue in the fantastic plot to from the launch pad awaiting "bonded storage" several miles give the United States another victory in space.

Project officials were wasting no time in preparing for the dual blastoff. Within hours after plans for the formation flight of two manned Gemini capsules were formulated, technicians were busy at work on the launch pad.

Working around the clock, rocket and spacecraft crews dismantled the Gemini 6 ship that was stranded by Monday's Agena rendezvous rocket failure, took down its two-stage booster and went to work on the Gemini 7 rocket.

The first stage was raised during the night and its second stage was mated early Friday. By noon, the way had been cleared for the heavily loaded Gemini 7 spacecraft.

If the ambitious plan is successful, Borman and Lovell will be launched first on a 14-day, 209-orbit endurance flight. The White House said Thursday the launch could come in December or January. Informal sources said the target date is Dec. 8.

Once Gemini 7 is up and in the proper orbit, the Gemini 6 booster and spacecraft will hurriedly be mounted back on the launch pad. Engineers will work on 24-hour a day schedules putting the system through final tests in an effort to launch Schirra and Stafford before Borman and Lovell come down.

If all goes without a hitch, Gemini 6 will be launched within 10 days of the Gemini 7 blastoff.

Then the Gemini 6 pilots will guide their capsule through an intricate series of orbital maneuvers and, hopefully, catch up with the Gemini 7 craft about five hours and 35 minutes after launch.

The daring plan calls for the two spaceships to come within several feet of each other as they zip around the globe at 17,500 miles per hour. Although they will not touch, the feat would be a key step in America's plan to land men on the moon in 1969.

Bogalusa Cited As Example Of Klan Domination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles L. Welter, D-Ga., has cited Bogalusa, La., as an example of Ku Klux Klan domination of a Southern community.

Welter discussed the influence of the Klan in Bogalusa in remarks he placed in the congressional record. He included what he said was a list of Klan members in Bogalusa.

The list, he said, was derived from federal court records. He made it public, he said, "so the public may know with whom it deals."

"Now, when a decent citizen receives a threatening telephone call, he has an idea who might be calling," Welter said. "When he finds the now familiar leaflet 'the KKK is watching you,' in his mailbox, he will know who is watching. When he finds a sticker proclaiming 'Your Neighbor is a Klansman,' he can now judge the truth of that matter."

Welter said Bogalusa, a city of 30,000, was for years called the "Magic City."

"Unfortunately, the Klan has stripped away most of the magic and cast over it a pall that will endure for some years to come he said.

Welter said the Klan in Bogalusa was chartered as the original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Anglican churchmen and others wrote in hundreds to the newspapers. The Daily Mail claimed it had one of the heaviest postbags of its history — with no signs of support for the archbishop.

But 32 Labor party and three Liberal members of Parliament signed a statement supporting his "excellent and courageous stand."

The archbishop himself has thus far kept silent in face of the storm he has aroused. But he promised to take part in a Sunday night commercial television program, "Rhodesia — the Christian conscience," to state his views again.

Teen Ager Shot After Robbing Grocery Store

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A teen-ager who police said robbed a food market was slain moments later by a patrolman who said the youth pulled a gun with the warning, "You're dead!"

Police Sgt. Frank Otto fired first.

The youth, Larry Richard Fidler, 18, Indianapolis, died with two bullets in his chest. It was then learned the gun he carried was loaded with blanks.

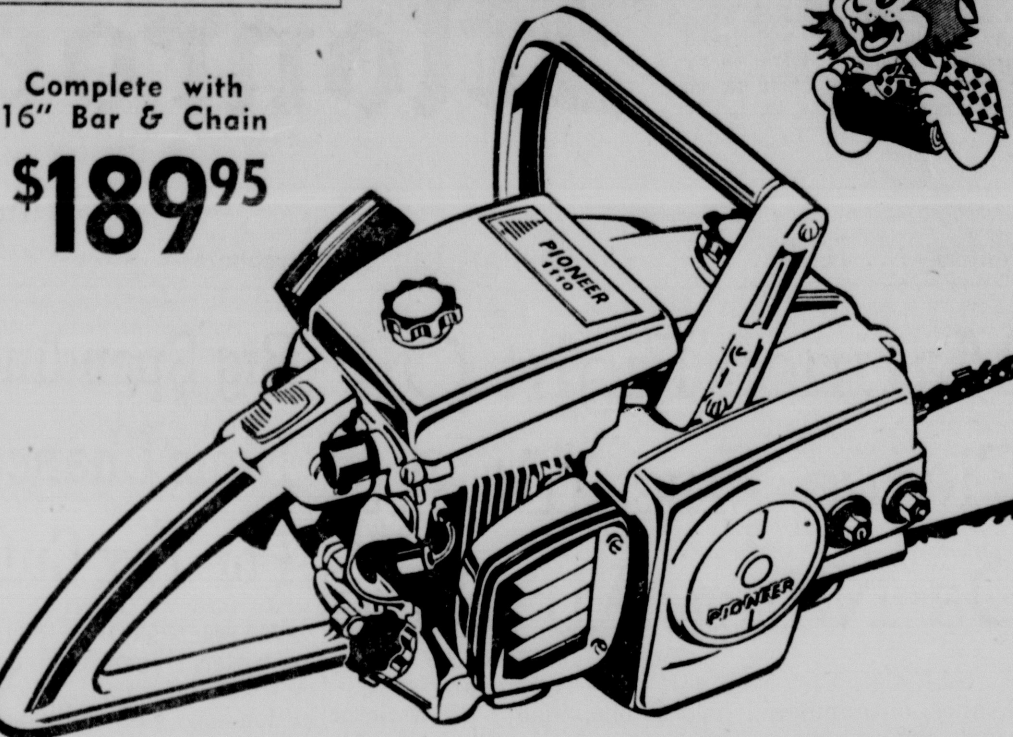

The owner of the robbed market identified Fidler as the youth who had taken $15 at gunpoint.

A note in the youth's clothing said, "Give me all the money you have or I'll kill you," police said.

Two $5 bills, four $1 bills and some change were found in a pocket, they said.

Street In West Monroe Tied Up By Derailment

A locomotive and a boxcar of an Illinois Central freight train derailed Friday afternoon tying up West Monroe's Wood Street for two hours.

According to railroad representative J. H. McAlpin, a car in the middle of a 25-car string derailed near the intersection of Commerce and Wood at about 2:15 p.m. The locomotive, already across Wood, was derailed while attempting to pull the erring boxcar back onto the tracks.

Illinois Central workmen managed to jack the engine back onto the track and it made a second—and successful—attempt to right the boxcar at 5:15 p.m. McAlpin, after looking over the stretches of tracks where the car and the engine had derailed said he would have to list the cause as "undetermined."

Court Reverses Ruling On Jacka; Board Is Favored

The Second Circuit Court of Appeals has reversed a Fourth District Court ruling in favor of West Monroe architect Beauford Jacka, releasing a decision in favor of the Ouachita Parish School Board.

Notification of the reversal by four-judge panel was received by Dist. Atty. Albin P. Lassiter, who represented the school project.

Jacka said Friday night his decision on possible further appeal would await consultation with his attorneys next week. But he labelled further appeal likely.

The appeals court ruling overturned a decision by Fourth District Judge Hillyer Parker, stating the school board is entitled to $28,000 recompense for damages it said resulted from Jacka's actions in the school project.

The appeals court ruling said the architect was "at fault" in accepting from a school board member a topographical map of the Riser campus site, rather than having a new map prepared.

It said the map was five-years-old, adding that the burden of proof was not on the school board to disprove any lack of authority on the part of the board member in giving the map.

Labor To Push Again

Union labor bosses figure they "came out at the little end of the horn" in the recently-adjourned session of Congress. They were pushing for three big actions, all of which failed to materialize. On the other hand, most people think Congress did a rather good job in refusing to comply with union demands. At the next session of Congress, which will convene in January, union leaders will make new drives for their three objectives.

At its annual convention in San Francisco in December, the American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial organizations will make formal demand for enactment of legislation to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits states to outlaw union shop agreements through "right-to-work" laws; an increase in the minimum wage from $1.25 up to $1.75 or $2 an hour, with expanded coverage; and higher unemployment compensation.

At the beginning of the last session of Congress last January, organized labor had believed it would get all three of these measures through its persuasiveness at the White House and the heavy support it had in Congress. It got none of them.

On 14(b), particularly, it figured on a real knockout victory. President Johnson had asked repeal of 14(b) in his State of the Union message and had reiterated his position in strong terms. Despite this, the measure squeaked through the House of Representatives only through the aid of Republican votes and was stopped in the Senate by the skillful maneuvering of Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, who, reportedly had been offended when President Johnson failed to carry out a promise made to Dirksen in regard to the reapportionment act applied to the states.

AFL-CIO leaders think President Johnson will again ask for repeal of 14(b) in January but realize it will be difficult to overcome a Senate filibuster against it.

They believe they will not only get legislation for an increase in the minimum wage but will achieve its extension to cover workers in hotels, motels, restaurants, laundries, cleaning establishments, hospitals and other employment now excluded from coverage.

Outside union labor circles, the minimum wage law is often regarded as retarding, rather than benefiting, the nation's economy and as depriving a good many people of work when they might otherwise obtain employment. There are many kinds of work for which employers simply cannot afford to pay high wages but for which they would pay wages a good many people would be glad to get.

Another disadvantage in the minimum wage law is that it seems to act as a sort of peg on the amount to be paid in wages to non-skilled workers. If it were not for the minimum wage law, some of these workers might get higher than the minimum pay. In a reverse way, it works somewhat like the maximum prices fixed by the government during World War II. At that time, the maximum price fixed by the government was higher than most merchants in the South were charging but it gave every merchant the carte blanche privilege of charging that much, and thus tended to eliminate competition.

The fight for fatter unemployment compensation checks will be bitter. Many states and many influential business and industrial organizations will oppose the move.

Having been frustrated in the first session of the 89th Congress, labor is flexing its muscles for a fight right down the line for new legislation favorable to the unions. The outcome, however, is problematical, particularly in view of the fact that there has been a sharp drop, percentage-wise, in labor's ranks.

Highway-Sign Business

No private or commercial signs of any kind are allowed on any superhighway rights-of-way in the United States and the same is generally true now in most states on the lesser highways. Nevertheless, signs on the highways now far out-number those of the days when anyone who wished could post his sign on a highway right-of-way. The reason for this is that the federal and state governments have gone into business in highway signs in a big way.

The objective of highway signs now, of course, is to enable the motorist to make better and safer use of the highways. With the vast maze of traffic circles and approaches now existing, the motorist would be traveling in a labyrinth from which there would be virtually no escape if the highway signs were not there to guide him. As it is, the driver, if he is alert enough and fast enough to read all the signs and comprehend their meaning before it is too late, moves easily through the labyrinthian maze.

In some states, about 80 per cent of the signs are reflectorized. Those that are not are intended to be useful only in daylight hours.

Through the combined efforts of many national and state organizations and officials, spearheaded by the Bureau of Public Roads and the American Association of State Highway Officials, and with the active support of such groups as the National Committee on Uniform Traffic Laws and Ordinances, the American Municipal Association, the American Standards Association, the National Association of County Officials and the Institute of Traffic Engineers, much progress is being made toward uniformity in street and highway signing.

On the interstate highways, uniformity is no problem. All signs in all categories must be the same in all particulars — size, color, shape and so on.

Chances are the average motorist skims blithely along the highways, taking for granted the many essential signs erected for his safety and convenience. Few stop to think about the careful study, planning and man hours of labor that go into all of this, to say nothing of all the expense involved.

In most states, highway sign construction and painting is done under the supervision of the state highway commissions.

As a typical example of the high cost of highway signs, Maine, which is not one of the largest states, had a total cost last year of $365,000, and this is expected to increase.

This is not surprising when one ponders the fact that it can cost as much as $19,000 to string only one set of four large overhead signs on an interstate highway. Most of the cost is for the truss from which the signs are suspended.

Highway signing has come a long way from the early days of the automobile, when the only way a motorist could find his way to a city he had not visited before was to stop along the way and ask anyone he chanced to see if he could direct him.

Such signing has become big business and the volume of motor traffic which these signs direct is constantly becoming more enormous. And, for traveling convenience, it might be said these signs are well worth their weight in lettering.

Food For Peace Is Shifted Under State Department Committee

IN THE WHIRLPOOL of decisions which swept around the White House in the closing days of Congress, numerous apparently minor details drew little attention, but that was not a mark of insignificance or unimportance.

Among these the President issued a directive that the Food for Peace plan be transferred from an advisory committee to the Department of State, where it will be used as an arm of government policy. Until now the plan has been important only as a means of disposing of surplus agricultural production sometimes without strings, but more often for counterpart funds or "soft" (native) currency.

Now, as explained by members of the Food for Peace advisory committee, composed of farm organizations' officials, processors of agricultural products and other specialists, Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be authorized to use farm products heretofore given or bargained away to countries in need of food, as a means of obtaining agreements which, in essence, will aid in preservation of peace. Food for Peace last year conveyed more than two billion dollars worth of food to needy countries.

THE PRESIDENT has made no statement on the change, but informed sources made clear that it was prompted in considerable part by the recent Indian - Pakistan conflict and the failure of those governments to follow out their understandings with this government.

India is now seeking a restoration of economic aid cut off when the nation became a belligerent. Also sought is a new long term agreement on Food for Peace shipments.

The President made clear in a statement, while still in Bethesda hospital, on signing the $3,218,000,000 foreign aid bill that he is no longer content to depend on promises from recipients of foreign aid.

Though food for peace cannot be considered a major part of U. S. foreign aid, it has been only in part a give - away. A small portion is sold for dollars. The whole plan is being brought under control of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

From being used entirely as a plan for disposal of surplus, it will now be used in some part, Rusk has indicated, as a means of obtaining peace agreements from food - hungry nations which have depended on us to feed their people while carrying on minor wars on their behalf at the behest of Communist instigators.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has spoken of the inconsistency of our unsuccessful efforts to reduce farm production as contrasted with the world's increasing food shortages, but he has also indicated that he is fed up with governments which take our food then flaunt our efforts to keep them from attacking their neighbors.

Egypt is another country which may feel the pressure of the U. S. exerted through agreements on Food for Peace. Premier Nasser's efforts to extend control over Arab countries, and even interfere in the Congo, while accepting large grants of food from Food for Peace, supposedly for the Egyptian people, have moved the State Department to ask that it have a voice in determining food grants, though the Department of Agriculture still controls the actual movement of surplus shipments.

Senator George McGovern, Democrat, South Dakota, has advocated enlarging the Food for Peace plan instead of limiting it in any respect. He also opposed the President's suggestion that Congress consider setting aside a national strategic food reserve because "it might end food for peace or call for much greater production."

THE PRESIDENT in turn has pointed out that the U. S. need not fear criticism on the score of foreign aid since of the $135,000,000 in such aid invested by the free world since World War II, the United States has contributed $115,000,000.

This has included at least 3,000,000 bushels of wheat per year to India. McGovern and others have urged this be gradually expanded for India and other hungry nations through an International Food and Nutrition Office, the purpose of which would be larger use of American food to help feed the world, at the expense of the American taxpayer.

Gas Pact Balked By Power Group

THIS, YOU MIGHT think, is a local story. But it affects the pocketbook of every consumer. Substitute your town or city for St. Louis, substitute any regulated industry for natural gas, and it fits you. St. Louis and the Mississippi River Transmission Company happen to be the patsies this time, but don't hold your breath. If it hasn't happened to you already, it will.

Spelled out briefly, this is the story:

St. Louis wants a good supply of natural gas for its utilities, its industries, and its residential consumers — and it wants it as cheaply as possible. But these hardly complex wants cannot be satisfied until the government, in the shape of the Federal Power Commission, has its say. And as in all regulatory agencies, the staff gets the floor first — and holds it for a long time.

Result: St. Louis has been waiting since 1962 for the FPC to get off the dime. The FPC's examiners, who believe that it's necessary to bust a monopoly in the snoot even if it means kicking the consumer in the shins, have seen to that. Protracted hearings had to be held. The chief FPC examiner ruled that St. Louis should be serviced by another gas pipeline in order to break the exclusive franchise held by Mississippi River Transmission.

THIS MIGHT make sense, except for this: It would have cost about $70 million to build a 700-mile pipeline from Oklahoma if the chief examiner had won out. This cost would naturally have been borne by the consumer. Meanwhile MRTC has unused capacity in its recently expanded pipeline facilities.

Those who should have been more eager for a break-up of the MRTC monopoly—the natural gas customers of St. Louis—were solidly against the building of this expensive and unnecessary pipeline from Oklahoma. They argued that bringing in a new company would only take customers away from the one in operation—without bringing increased supplies of gas to the area.

But the FPC's chief examiner was not interested in that. Neither did he seem to care that the duplications arising from "competition" would bring about an increase in natural gas prices to its residential and industrial consumers. The proof that a single company could produce on a fair basis can be found in MRTC's reduction of its rates, at a savings to St. Louis consumers of $3 million.

Elections Scant In Big Off-Year

ELECTIONS Tuesday are far-off year affairs. Just two — New Jersey and Virginia — out of the 50 States will elect Governors and in both of these the outcome could be forecast with certainty even before the campaigns began. There are a number of Mayoral races, all in cities usually strongly Democratic. Interest centers in the New York City, Cleveland and Louisville races. Republicans hope for upsets in one or two of them, but are not counting heavily on their chances. The mid-Presidential term election when a flock of Governors, United States Senators, members of the House of Representatives, State offices, complexion of State legislatures and local offices will be decided, is a year away. But this is the political fare of Tuesday's elections, such as it is:

NEW JERSEY — Governor Richard J. Hughes, Democrat, is looked upon as an easy winner over State Senator Wayne Dumont Jr., his Republican challenger. Democrats think that unless there is a strong reverse from the 1964 trend of voting Hughes may win by 200,000 votes. Some Republicans think Dumont might hold the Hughes lead to 50,000. There is much interest in the control of the State Senate. For 189 years New Jersey State Constitution provided for one Senator from each county. Supreme Court upset that in its "one man, one vote," decision. There are 29 seats to be filled in the newly-apportioned State Senate, and Democrats expect to have a majority of at least 5. There are only 40 members of the New Jersey State Assembly (lower House) and Democrats expects a comfortable working majority.

VIRGINIA — So one-sidedly Democratic is Virginia in State elections that Republicans have difficulty in finding candidates to go through the motions of making the race for Governor and other Statewide officials. Linwood Holton, the Republican entry for Governor in the election Tuesday, is a more attractive candidate than G.O.P. in the Old Dominion State has had in recent years. He has stumped industriously but is no threat to the continuation of Byrd organization men in the Governor's office in Richmond. Lieut. Governor Mills E. Godwin, and its this year's gubernatorial candidate, is a hands-down winner. William Story, a John Birch Society member, running as a third candidate for Governor will pick up only a small vote. There are

THE FEDERAL Power Commissioners finally heard the case. They found that what the consumers had said all along was true. A new company would be compelled to charge higher rates than those now obtainable in St. Louis. And the residential consumers would find themselves paying $1.4 million a year more for the gas to heat their homes. They reversed the examiner by a 4-1 vote.

That should have been the end of it. But the FPC does not give up that easily. In the continued guise of looking out for the consumer, it has ordered new hearings to see if two other natural gas companies shouldn't be allowed to cut in on the St. Louis market. There is at present an unused pipeline capacity which can be put to work for a relatively small investment by MRTC, but this is much too easy for the bureaucratic mind. There is no indication that the companies now being proposed—and fighting for a toehold in a profitable market, with a profitable rate raise probably indicated — would in any way help St. Louis decrease its gas bills, or help free the city's air of toxic pollution through the increased use of nonpolluting natural gas.

HOW LONG THE new battle will last is anybody's guess. But three things are certain: (1) it will be long and bitter, (2) the lawyers will make money out of it, and (3) St. Louis will have to wait for the plentiful supply of natural gas it wants and needs. And all of this because doctrinaire bureaucrats in Washington have a flea in their ear about "monopoly."

If they could find a way to do it, they would break up the telephone monopoly even though it gives good service and a reasonable rate of profit. The government watches like a hawk when the subsidiaries of American Tel & Tel attempt to change the rate structure—and this is a proper function. It would be rather silly if they asked General Telephone to string up parallel cables in order to create "competition." There are some industries in which monopoly is necessary to efficient management and low costs. The FPC hasn't learned this lesson yet.

In St. Louis and the instant case, MRTC is the supposed whipping boy. (Since I'm not a stockholder, I shouldn't care.) But is he? Or is the man getting the clobbering that pathetic figure known as John Q. Taxpayer? You figure it out.

140 seats in the State legislature and Republicans hold only 14 of these with a chance to improve on this 10 to 1 outnumbering.

NEW YORK CITY MAYORALTY — Abraham D. Beame, Democrat, is the indicated winner for Mayor of New York City by a substantial plurality. It has, however, been a campaign of surprise and there could, just possibly, be another. Representative John V. Lindsay, who serves in Congress as a liberal Republican and has both the Republican and Liberal Party nomination, started fast, slowed down and may be on the upsurge again, but he still seems to be behind. Lindsay himself thinks he may win by 100,000. There has never been that close a race in New York City in modern times although Fiorello La Guardia defeated William O'Dwyer by only 135,000 votes in 1941. Some Beame supporters are still saying the Democratic candidate will be a landslide winner, but the number making such a claim is small. Lindsay, who soft-peddled his Republican affiliation from the beginning, has been appealing to Republicans to some extent in the closing days of the campaign, but puts his dependence for election on an appeal to liberal Democrats and splinter Liberal party voters. Beame is conservative for a big city Democrat man who may have blighted any hope Lindsay had in a third party entry: William V. Buckley, Conservative party nominee, who is making a better than expected showing in the polls.

Ruston Symphony Performs Sunday

RUSTON (Special) — Ruston's Civic Symphony Society, Inc., will begin its third year of musical entertainment in the Student Center at Louisiana Tech with a performance at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

The event is open to public and no admission fee will be charged. Expenses of the organization are paid by membership dues of $10 and that payment permits everyone in the member family to attend the concerts. Approximately 200 persons from Ruston and a few from surrounding towns are members.

Jimmie Howard Reynolds, Tech band director, is the conductor of the symphony orchestra.

The organization plans to present four programs at Tech during this school year and two out-of-town performances, according to the society president, Clarence E. Faulk Jr.

"We issue a special invitation to the children of our members to attend the season's first program Sunday and the other symphony concerts," Faulk said. "We hope to encourage the young people with inspirational music so they will continue the study of music. We especially hope some will decide to study strings since they are so essential to an orchestra and there are so few who specialize in these instruments."

A tea hour will follow the Sunday afternoon concert, which will allow those attending to Southern Airways directors decided at their regular quarterly meeting this week in Atlanta to pay a 10 cents per share dividend on the 670,000 common shares outstanding.

The dividend will be paid Dec. 15, 1965, to stockholders of record Nov. 19, 1965.

This brings the 1965 total to meet the members of the orchestra and to mingle with friends.

The membership campaign for this school year is in progress. Officers of the symphony group, besides Faulk, are Mrs. J. L. Dadds, first vice president; Mrs. F. Jay Taylor, second vice president; Dr. Paul J. Pennington, secretary, and L. D. Napier, treasurer.

20 per share. Southern's net income rose to $714,133 or $1.07 per share for the first nine months of 1965, a 48 per cent increase in net income over the comparable period in 1964.

Association Helps Retarded Children

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of articles on the participating agencies of the United Givers Fund Campaign.)

The Ouachita Association for Retarded Children was organized to promote the welfare of the mentally retarded. It gives advice and assistance to parents of the retarded, develops training and educational programs, and works to develop a better understanding of their problems by the public.

Statistically, three per cent of the population is classified as mentally retarded. Their mental development has not kept pace with their physical development. They are not mentally deranged or mentally ill. They merely lack the mental ability we usually associate with their age. Unfortunately, many of them do have physical handicaps in addition. It is the aim of the association to see that they get the training necessary to enable them to become productive within the limit of their abilities.

The association was active in establishing the G. B. Cooley Home and Training School, located in West Monroe, for trainable retarded children who either did not have a home or are in need of full-time supervision. That home is now operated by the parish and is financed by a one mile tax. The association has had a similar interest in the training school for retarded children at Selman Field. ## City Attorneys To Meet Nov. 13 In Baton Rouge

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Legal problems pertaining to local government will be spotlighted in Baton Rouge Nov. 13 when the Louisiana City Attorneys' Association holds its annual fall conference.

Thirteen-year-old Gregory N. Bilyeu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bilyeu, 1403 Emerson St., will receive a God and a Country Scout Award Sunday during morning services at St. John's Christian Church, Forsythe and Westminster.

Jes Ramblin' New Enlistee

A new Air Force enlistee is William Eugene Howell, graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonzo Howell of 1717 S. 7th St., Monroe. Howell left this week for basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Presently home before reporting to his next assignment in the patrol squadron of the Navy base at Whidbey Island, Wash., is John B. Jones of Filhiol Street, who recently enlisted in the Aviation Officer Candidate program and has been commissioned as an ensign. He has finished 19 weeks of Anti-Submarine Warfare School at North Island, San Diego, Calif. The ensign attended Northeast Louisiana State College.

Local Brothers

Twin Cities brothers, Leslie H. Henry of 210 N. 9th St., West Monroe, and Mark T. Henry of 1116 N. 6th St., Monroe, are presently home on leave until Nov. 19, when they will report to Fleet Tug, a boat which is home ported at San Diego, Calif. The two enlisted some eight weeks ago in the Navy's buddy program and just completed their recruit training at San Diego.

There was no questioning Friday where the sympathies of West Monroe City Hall employee Ida Fay McGrew were, prior to West Monroe High School's homecoming game that night with Ouachita Parish High.

She wore two shoulder streamers — one calling attention to the homecoming, the other urging West Monroe to "Clip the Lions." As well, she was displaying the corsage she would wear to the game.

As to that second streamer, however, Ida Fay's co-worker, Mrs. Floy Kilpatrick, warned that clipping the Lions could result in a 15-yard penalty.

Pleasingly Puzzled

Mrs. Diane Saxon, accounting employee at the Ouachita Parish School Board office, jokingly was puzzling Friday over what her husband, Joe, is up to.

She was wearing and pointing with pride to an attractive golden necklace and pendant cross which he'd given her.

Seriously, she seemed more proud than suspicious.

South Bound

Off to parts south and maybe west this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Joiner of Monroe.

Leaving Sunday morning, the couple will journey to New Orleans and come back Monday to Baton Rouge where Joiner, a ward three police juror, has business. A side-trip to Houston, Tex., also is a possibility.

Return is anticipated sometime Wednesday.

Trial Date Set For Two After Not Guilty Pleas

Two Twin City men pleaded not guilty to charges of aggravated kidnapping and attempted aggravated rape Friday in Fourth District Court and were set for trial Jan. 3, 1966.

The two, Jewell A. Wright, 302 Wheelis St., West Monroe, and Sherman Allen, 300 Michael St., Monroe, are charged on the double counts in connection with an incident involving 13- and 19-year-old Negro girls. Judge Mack E. Barham presided over Friday's session when the two were arraigned.

In other action, Kenneth D. Petry, returned recently from the Arizona state prison, pleaded not guilty to issuing a worthless check and will be tried Dec. 9. He is charged with issuing the check for guns and cash, valued at $120.

Three persons were fined $300 and costs for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. They were Ira Martin, Negro, Rt. 3, Ruston; Elton McElroy, Rt. 3, Box 140, Marion; and William L. Judy, Rt. 2, Box 39X, Monroe. Judy was given 125 days as a second offender, and 30 days for disturbing the peace, not to run concurrently with other sentences.

Fined $100 and given a four-months jail term, plus four months, suspended on restitution, was Willie B. Brown, 1306 Pine St., Monroe, for simple criminal damage to property.

If you have a question that you want answered, write or call "Mr. Editor, Tell Me, Please" at the Morning World and News-Star. We'll be glad to get the information and pass it on to you in this column.

Who are the members of the U.S. Supreme Court and also who are the members of President Johnson's cabinet?

Members of the Supreme Court are: Chief Justice Earl Warren, and Associate Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas, John Harlan, Abe Fortas, Potter Stewart, William Brennan, Byron White and Thomas Clark.

The President's cabinet consists of: Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Treasury Henry Fowler, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach, Postmaster General Larry O'Brien, Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Secretary of Labor John T. Connor, and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare John Gardner. Congress has approved a cabinet post for urban affairs but President Johnson has not filled this position yet.

What is required to obtain a marriage license in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas?

In Arkansas, the man must be 21 and the woman 18 to marry without consent. With consent, a man 18 and a woman 16 may marry. They must have taken a blood test and must wait three days to get their license after application. There is no waiting period after the license is issued. The license costs $3.

In Louisiana, both parties must be 21 to marry without parental consent. With consent, a man may marry at 18 and a woman at 16. A blood test is required and a 72-hour waiting period is required after license is issued. There is no waiting period to get the license after application. A birth certificate is required as proof of age. The license costs $2.

In Mississippi, both parties must be 21 to marry without consent. With consent, a man must be 17 and a woman 15. A blood test is required and a three-day waiting period is required to obtain a license. There is no waiting period after the license is granted. The license costs $3.

In Texas, a man must be 21 and a woman 18 to marry without consent. With consent, a man may marry at 16 and a woman at 14. A blood test is required and a special law applies to minors as regards a waiting period before the license is issued. The license costs $3 and there is no waiting period for either age group after the license is issued.

How does Ouachita Parish's death rate compare with its birth rate? From January to August of this year, there were 1,512 births in Ouachita Parish as compared to 672 deaths. The birth rate was 20.5 while the death rate was only 9.1.

Is there any special law to be considered for putting a family cemetery on one's own land in Louisiana? There is no law governing family cemeteries that our attorney can recall. We are assuming, of course, that the land you speak of is away from the city and such a cemetery would not be converted into a commercial project.

Is there a branch of the service in which a man can actually earn college credits while serving in the Armed Forces?

Yes, all branches of the service offer college programs for enlistees. The programs are highly competitive and the federal government pays all costs in some programs and up to three-fourths of the total expenses in others. Applications for such programs should be made at the local recruiting station of your chosen armed service.

Why is it against the policy for air conditioners to be put in classrooms when principals install air conditioners in their offices?

Officials report that most schools are not wired to take the additional load of heavy air conditioning. Areas such as principals' offices, libraries and teachers' lounges, they say, are accepted because they are used longer hours, more months and by a wider group of people.

My father died in military service and I am eligible for training under the War Orphans Education Assistance Program. May I take my training on-the-job?

No. The law prohibits on-the-job training. Your training must be taken in the classroom.

What is considered a full-time course for a student going to college under the War Orphans Education Assistance Program?

If he is taking undergraduate training, full-time consists of at least 14 semester hours a week. If he is in graduate training, the Veterans Administration will accept a certificate of the school as to whether his training is full-time.

How long does the registration have to be in effect before a person can actually vote? By this I mean, after the person applies and is accepted for registration, is there a time limit before he is placed on the rolls?

Once the application has been accepted by the registrar of voters the person is a registered voter. As quickly as the office personnel can process the applications, they are put on the rolls.

The state laws on registration requires a 30-day period before an election when the registration books are closed for new applicants. During this time, the registrar compiles her voting rolls and prepares for the election. Should there have been a rush of applications prior to the deadline, this "closed period" gives time for the placing on the rolls of new applicants.

In the schools of Ouachita Parish, I would like to know how much it costs to maintain a nine-month school, counting all costs with nothing left out. I would like to know the amount the federal government contributed.

Parish school officials point out that since the questioner failed to name a specific school, it is impossible to state the operating cost. Costs vary from school to school, and naturally it costs more to operate a large high school for nine months, than to operate an elementary school.

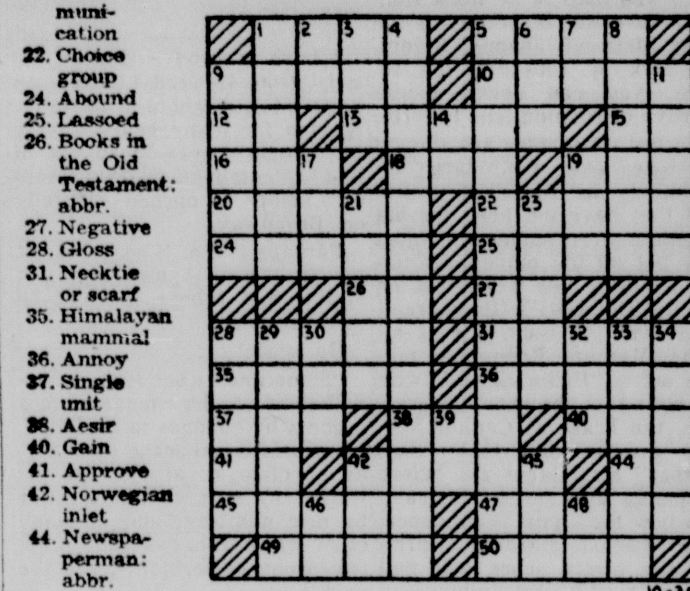

However, the officials did give average costs to educate one pupil over a nine-month school year—$509.13. This includes a general fund expenditure per pupil of $338.08, and a per pupil expenditure of $171.05 from all other funds.

From these figures, it would therefore be possible to arrive at the approximate cost of operating a particular school by multiplying the per pupil expense by the number of pupils enrolled.

As to federal funds, none are being received in the current year, except through the U.S. Agriculture Department, for which no compliance agreement has so far been demanded. Last year this lunchroom assistance came to $112,500, not counting the food commodities served in the schools. Officials could place no firm value on the foodstuffs themselves.

How To Keep Well

By DR. VAN DELLEN

SNAILS AND SANITATION

Molluscicides (snail killers) are replacing insecticides in many tropical countries as a means of controlling schistosomiasis. These blood flukes infect 200 million people in parts of China, Egypt, Africa, the West Indies, and Latin and South America. Almost one-third of the Puerto Rican population is said to harbor the causative parasite. This is important to us because one million citizens from Latin America have come to New York City.

It is necessary to understand the life cycle of the schistosome. A freshwater snail is a necessary intermediate vector. The process begins when a human contaminates the water with schistosomal eggs. They hatch almost immediately into an organism that is capable of swimming to and entering the host snail. In one month the critter develops into a wiggling parasite (larva) that leaves the snail and penetrates the skin of a person who is wading in or drinks the polluted water.

At this stage, the outcome depends upon the type of schistosomal involvement. The most common variety (S. mansoni) settle in the veins of the intestinal wall and rectum. They lay eggs that escape via the intestinal contents to complete the cycle. This type is prevalent in Latin America but the disease is not yet a threat to us, because only one of the 72 North American snails is a possible host. In addition, we have better sanitation. Other types of blood flukes have the same life cycle except that these migrate to the walls of the bladder, bile ducts, and lungs.

These are inconspicuous maladies in that the manifestations vary in severity and are not specific. Symptoms include fever, chills, cough, headache, diarrhea, pallor, abdominal pain, and bladder irritability. Remedies are available but prevention with molluscicides is more promising.

The disease is growing in seriousness especially in the underdeveloped, tropical countries that are digging irrigation ditches and dams. The climates in these areas are fertile fields for the causative organism.

DAILY TEA

Mrs. E. D. writes: I drink three cups of tea a day and have been told this amount is as harmful as coffee. Please advise.

REPLY: Neither tea nor coffee is harmful in moderation. Only a few medical conditions involving chiefly the heart, stomach, and intestine are aggravated by these stimulants.

HAIR AND NERVES

Mrs. C. writes: My hairdresser tells me my thinning hair is due to nerves. Is this possible?

REPLY: No. Loss of hair may be a hereditary trait or it may be due to a variety of conditions, varying from age to insufficient thyroid secretion.

COUGH "LOOSENER"

H. P. writes: I use expectorant drugs for cough?

REPLY: To loosen the secretions, making it easier to bring up the mucus. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on cough.

SHE DIDN'T KNOW

Mrs. F. writes: Could a prospective mother be unaware of her condition for four months?

REPLY: Yes, but the day of reckoning will be soon here.

SKIN CANCER

S. A. writes: What are the chances of curing a malignancy of the skin?

REPLY: Excellent, more than 95 percent when removed early.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

WHAT ELSE IS NEW... Director Mary Rydell wants an option on James Leo Herlihy's novel "Midnight Cowboy" and make it into a film starring none other than Elvis Presley. Rydell, fast earning a reputation as one of the sharpest helmsmen in Hollywood, feels Elvis is a natural for the role of Joe Buck and could wind up being recognized as a serious actor instead of merely the wealthiest. Not a bad idea; Elvis might be perfect for the part... Marilyn Maxwell, who used to be Rock Hudson's favorite, is becoming the steady date of Johnny Rivers, the rock 'n' roller. If it's serious, you can never accuse Marilyn of running true to form.

Record companies are singing the blues over their large investments in Broadway musicals that have not been the big hits they were hoping for when they put up the money. Columbia Records took a beating on "Dra! The Cat!" (they aren't even going to issue a cast album), Mercury Records is putting out a "Pickwick LP with the hope that the show will survive, the brass at Capitol Records are praying that "Skyscraper" straightens out before it opens, and RCA, logically showing the most confidence, believes that Barbara Harris and the pretty score will pull them out with their albums of "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever."

An hour and a half after Princess Margaret arrives in the San Francisco, she's supposed to be meeting with Carol Channing for a private talk. It'll have to be a talk after the San Francisco Press Club reception, because Her Royal Highness is due at the Press Club 40 minutes after her plane touches down. This would indicate that, if Carol's time-table is correct, the Princess will stay at the reception for less than half an hour before going on to her unofficial engagements. (After all, they have traffic in San Francisco, too.)

I have in hand a slap on the wrist from Howard Lindsay, an acquaintance whom I have respected for many years, saying he thought I was "way out of line" to comment on "Skyscraper" before it opened officially on Broadway.

Perhaps I was. If so, it wasn't the first time I was ever out of line and I hope it won't be the last time.

He wrote: "Sometimes what looks like a dull show can be changed into a success by changes in routing, by an additional scene or change of dialogue already in the works, by cuts of numbers or by new numbers, and in many other ways. This can happen between one performance and the next."

Very true. I know this. We agree. He adds: "You know as well as I do that Variety is not read by the public, and that its opinions stay pretty much within the trade."

I do know this, too. But Howard conveniently left out the reviews by critics in Boston, New Haven, Philadelphia, Detroit and wherever shows happen to try out. Their circulation is not confined to "the trade"; they write for their readers, who, to the best of my knowledge, are people, including theatre-goers. And they write complete reviews, whereas my comments were a brief opinion, and billed as such.

He also seems to forget the ticket brokers who go out of town to see plays and musicals, the scouts or producers of television shows who catch shows in their early stages looking for possible talent, and who can be the fastest spreaders of the word "It's a hit," "It needs fixing," or "It's a bomb" since Marconi invented the wireless, because they don't even have to wait for a weekly deadline, as Variety does, they are in Sardi's and other key places the same night, or the night after, and they influence important people.

If "Skyscraper" had been playing to non-money-making invitations while in the throes of alterations, and I had chanced to see a performance, there would have been no word from me in this space. I know a lot about "fixing" — maybe not as much as Howard, but a lot. However, once "Skyscraper" had thrown itself upon the commercial market in New York, and "the public" was paying to see it, I felt that as a reporter I had a right to treat it as no great secret. This is not an apology, it is merely an explanation.

Funny thing. As many times as I've written about a show "It got great reviews in Philadelphia," "It's playing to S.R.O. in Boston" or "It looks as if you ought to order your tickets now," I've never heard from Howard — or anyone — that I was "out of line" in telling my readers what was happening, or about to happen, even though the show hadn't brought its lumber into Manhattan.

Well, maybe it's not so funny. Maybe it's just human nature. None of us wants to hear — or read — anything but the superlatives, if you're perfectly honest about it. And the longer you can postpone the inevitable, the farther you are ahead of the game. The theatre is a tough game, and I can't blame anyone in it for trying his darndest to postpone the inevitable.

Mixed Motives Seen In Mass Cuban Exodus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro probably has mixed motives for allowing Cubans to leave his Communist nation, U.S. officials said Friday.

Some officials believed Castro had three main aims: — To ease his strained economy by getting rid of persons who were not productive — the old, the very young and the unskilled.

— To ease domestic tensions by allowing departure of political dissenters.

— To probe diplomatically for any sign of American willingness to follow up refugee talks with steps to ease the U.S. policy of political and economic isolation of Cuba in the hemisphere.

Others have suggested that Castro might have made his initial free travel offer Sept. 28 as a propaganda gesture which he did not believe the United States would take him up on.

Those holding this view suspect the Cuban premier may regret that he started the free travel idea in the first place and also that he may have been surprised at the large number of Cubans who apparently want to leave.

A big refugee flow, some theorists hold, will show the world that many Cubans have been kept in their country against their will. It also will show other hemisphere nations that Castroism would not be an attractive road for them to follow; officials said.

New Government Plan Submitted

OAK GROVE (Special) — A new home rule charter, establishing a mayor council form of government for Oak Grove has been submitted for consideration of the voters in West Carroll Parish by the Oak Grove Charter Commission.

The proposed new form of government will be voted on by registered residents of the town in a referendum election on or after January 4, 1966.

Chairmen of the charter commission was Charlie F. Hankins, also a member of the town council. Other members were Lavelle Brown, L. H. Willis, C. O. Roberts, and W. S. Byargeon. O. N. Hamilton Jr., served as attorney for the commission.

If adopted the new form of government would become effective following the 1966 municipal election.

Principal change in the charter proposal concerns the abolishing of the elective office of marshal of the town and creating the appointive office of chief of police. Under the charter, the mayor would appoint the chief of police with the consent of the council and he would serve at the pleasure of the council.

At present the office of marshal is elective in Oak Grove. The charter also calls for establishment of an appointive office of commissioner of streets. Salaries for both positions would be set by action of the council and mayor.

The charter also sets the mayor's salary at $100 per month and the salary of councilmen at $25 per month, provided the councilmen attends the regular monthly meeting of that group.

It also provides that no increase in pay for either the mayor or council member can become effective unless it is proposed six months prior to the regular election for those offices to go into effect for the succeeding term of office.

If adopted, changes in the charter can be voted by the electorate only once every two years. These changes would have to win approval in a referendum election, just as the basic charter itself.

Qualifications for the office of mayor and member of the town council are spelled out as requirements for them to be qualified electors of the town and to have been residents of the town for two years prior to assuming office.

Lions End Famine Against Rebs 14-7

By KEITH PRINCE
World Sports Editor

Defensive halfback James Hale picked off a Ronnie Wiggins pass at his own two yard line with 41 seconds to play, preserving a 14-7 Ouachita triumph over West Monroe in one of the best schoolboy football games ever played in the Twin Cities.

The interception stymied an amazing come-from-behind performance by Wiggins and his Rebel mates in their homecoming game to keep Coach Mark Boatright's Lions in the driver's seat of district 1-AAA.

The victory Friday night was Ouachita's first over West Monroe since 1956, ending an eight year drought, and was only the third time the Lions have ever beaten West Monroe.

More than 6,000 fans jammed into Rebel Stadium for the start of the battle which matched two of the biggest surprises in triple-A football, and by the end of the game there were at least a thousand more streaming both sidelines.

Ouachita is now 4-1 in district play while West Monroe is 1-1-2.

Johnny Knighten, Ouachita's Mr. Big all year, again gave the Lions all the offensive punch they needed. The 170-pound tailback with the lightning quick moves raced 24 yards in the second quarter for Ouachita's first tally and threw 24 yards to end Wayne Jensen for what proved to be the winning tally midway in the third quarter.

Hale kicked true after both scores.

But Knighten was far from the whole show in this brilliantly played ball game.

In fact, had it not been for the interception he threw everybody who witnessed the event would surely have gone away thinking Wiggins was something more than human.

His performance had to be one of the most tremendous all-around shows ever put on by a prep quarterback in this area. Bringing to life once again the picture of a true triple-threat football player, Wiggins did everything but take up tickets.

The 180-pounder completed 14 of 24 passes for a whopping 231 yards, rushed 12 times for 23 yards, did the West Monroe punting, kickoffs, converted after the touchdown which he scored himself on a 10 yard run in the third quarter, and played defense.

Actually, the only time all night prior to the interception that Wiggins looked like he might not wear a big "S" on his chest after all was when he was injured six minutes before intermission and had to be helped to the dressing room.

The injury was to his ankle, but he returned seconds before the half and was there to stay. And those final 24 minutes seemed to revolve around his every move.

The Rebels finished on top of Ouachita in first downs, 12 to 8, and in total yards gained 330 to 212 on the strength of Wiggins' arm. The Lions had 183 yard rushing and 29 through the air while West Monroe chipped in 99 on the ground to go with the passing yardage.

Knighten, with 40 and 24 yard runs to his credit, was the game's top rusher with 92 yards on 10 trips while teammate Dickie McNair was next with 64 yards on 12 trips.

McNair also played his usual outstanding defensive game, coming up from his halfback post to make tackle after tackle.

Fullback Richard Ware picked up 29 yards rushing on six carries for West Monroe but he played a much bigger part in the game than these totals showed. The 170-pound senior helped West Monroe stay in the game late in the second half with his receptions of Wiggins passes and he finished the game with five catches good for 86 yards.

Possibly the turning point of the game occurred just before halftime when Rebel halfback Pete Lea had to be taken out of the game with an injury and was never able to return.

At that time, Lea had already gained 32 yards on six carries and had caught two passes for 28 yards.

But even without Lea, Walter Brister's Rebels kept the pressure on a Ouachita team that has matured enough since the beginning of the season to stay calm in the face of disaster. And it took every ounce of poise they could muster for the Lions to hold off Wiggins.

The first quarter gave a true indication that West Monroe had come to play as it controlled the ball with 18 scrimmage plays to only six for Ouachita.

West Monroe began its first serious non-scoring drive of the night late in the first period, taking over on its own 27 following a Ouachita punt. From here the Rebs moved to Ouachita's 18 yard line before faltering somewhat due to two straight offside penalties.

And then it was Ouachita's time. Coming up with one of its patented razzle-dazzle plays, the Lions moved from the shadow of their goal in a hurry.

After a penalty, run by Ronnie McCain that netted nothing and an incomplete pass, Ouachita faced third and 15 from its 18. Lion punter R. J. Ladart went back as if to kick but the snap instead went short to Knighten.

Concealing the ball well, Knighten broke to the left sideline and sprinted 40 yards to the West Monroe 42. However, this drive stalled a few plays later and West Monroe took over on its 31. But it was during this Ouachita offensive series that Wiggins was temporarily put out of commission.

When the Rebs did take over freshman quarterback Mike Riley was at the helm. West Monroe failed to move the ball and Floyd Reeves punted for the absent Wiggins, kicking to Knighten at the Ouachita 34. He returned it 13 yards to the 47 and Ouachita set sail for its first touchdown.

The scoring drive took only four plays. It was set up on a beautiful 21 yard run by McNair from the Rebels' 49 down to the 28. The hustling halfback showed great balance on the scamper, almost being tripped up at the 40 before regaining his stride to speed downfield for 12 more yards.

Knighten ran for four to the 24 on first down and then found

Jensen for the touchdown.

But from here Wiggins took over and the game suddenly began to take on the appearance of a whirlwind finish.

After Ouachita's second tally, West Monroe marched from its 28 down to the Ouachita 18 but had to give up the ball when a fourth down pass completion from Wiggins to end Randy Russell left the ball inches short of a first at the 11.

Here, West Monroe held Ouachita and the Lions punted out to the Rebels' 36. Wiggins wasn't to be denied this time and he moved West Monroe to its score in four plays.

First he hit Ware for 13 yards to midfield, then he sprinted left and connected with Ware for 19 more down to the Ouachita 19. From here he hit Reeves for nine to the 10 and then picked his way for six points on the next play.

His successful conversion was good with 14 to play in the third period, and that was to be all the scoring — but not all the excitement.

Early in the fourth quarter it looked like West Monroe was on the move again when Wiggins hit Todd Robertson for an 11 yard gain and then connected on a perfect strike to Reeves for 37 yards down to the Ouachita 40.

However, Reeves bobbled the ball as he was being tackled and Knighten recovered for Ouachita. The Lions couldn't move from here and the tension began building as West Monroe got possession at its own 30 with 3:55 left.

Wiggins actually deserved a better fate than his interception that killed the drive. He was deadly on the drive, completing four that picked up 47 yards as West Monroe marched toward a possible tie.

Once he hit Ware with a 15 yarder on third and 10 and four plays later he kept the drive going by combining with Ware again on fourth and two at the Ouachita 47. Ware made a good catch at the 42 and rammed for eight more yards.

giving the Rebs a first at the 29 with 2:10 left.

Connecting first with Mike McGee on a screen for six yards and then with Ware again for 13 yards, Wiggins & Company marched to the Ouachita 10.

Tulane Hunts Plenty Firsts With Vandy

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Unpredictable Tulane hunts a number of first today when it tackles Vanderbilt in a Southeastern Conference battle.

A victory for the Wave in its homecoming contest would mark the first time that Tommy O'Boyle has recorded two consecutive victories, two conference wins, and it would almost insure Tulane of finishing out of the SEC cellar for the first time since O'Boyle took over as head coach.

Tulane will attempt to crack the stout Vandy defense, the best in the Conference, with an offense based around a classy Cajun quarterback named Bobby Duhon.

In the five games that Duhon guided the Greenies, he has passed for 625 yards and five touchdowns. This ranks him fifth among the passers in the conference.

Vanderbilt coach Jack Green, an alumnus of Tulane, is well aware of Duhon's talents as he calls him "one of the best backs" the Commodores will face.

Duhon's 625 yards through the air is almost double what the Commodores have allowed its six opponents.

The six Vanderbilt foes have been able to obtain only 383 yards on 33 completions. This slim yardage ranks Vandy as the top pass defense team in the SEC and makes them second in the nation.

Wild Offensive Contest Possible In Tech Game

RUSTON (Special) — A wild offensive show is the prospect here tonight when Louisiana Tech and Tennessee Tech clash in an intersectional game. Tennessee Tech, with a 3-3 record, has been putting points on the board at a fast pace in recent tilts and will be seeking its fourth straight victory. Tech fans hope the Bulldogs will continue to display the offense that wrecked Northwestern State 42-14 last weekend at Shreveport. The Tennessee team has a crunching ground game to accompany a new found passing

Pro Predictions

Bears Given Nod Against Packers

By MIKE RATHET
NEW YORK (AP) — Four weeks ago the Chicago Bears beat the Green Bay Packers — in the second half. This time they'll do it for a full game. The first time the two teams met the Packers built a 20-0 halftime lead, then the Bears finally put their offense together and Green Bay had to hold on for a 23-14 victory. The Bears went on to win their next three games and, it says here, they'll make the Packers victim No. 4. Last week's record was 7-4 for 42-23-3 over-all and a .646 percentage. Here we go again (all games Sunday):

National League
Chicago 21, Green Bay 17 — The Bears suddenly have developed into a fine offensive outfit behind quarterback Rudy Bukich, No. 1 in the league statistics, and rookie Gale Sayers. The Western Division leading Packers have been sputtering, and last week came up with minus 10 yards passing. Cleveland 35, Minnesota 28 — The Browns, leading the East with a 5-1 record, have momentum, a four-game winning streak and Jimmy Brown. Fran Tarkenton passed for over 400 yards for Vikings last week but Minnesota gave up 41 points. You don't do that against Cleveland.
St. Louis 31, New York 21 — The Cardinals, second in the East at 4-2, need a victory to keep up with the Browns. However, Buddy Humphreys still may be at quarterback in place of Charley Johnson. The Giants may be suffering from bubble-bursting loss to Browns last week.
Baltimore 28, San Francisco 24 — The Colts, runners-up in the West at 5-1, had considerable trouble against Los Angeles last week and may have more against the 49ers. But Johnny Unitas figures to have the edge over John Brodie in a top quarterback duel.
Dallas 21, Pittsburgh 14 — Bob Hayes returns to Cowboy line-up and may give the offense the lift it needs to snap a four-game losing streak. The Steelers, who won their first last week, still can't score enough.
Detroit 28, Los Angeles 27 — George Izo takes over at quarterback, and with running back Joe Don Looney, pulls the Lions through after three straight losses. Bill Munroe continues to improve at quarterback for Rams but Detroit has top defense.

LSU Freshmen Pound Maroons Behind Passing
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State's unbeaten freshmen pounded Mississippi State's baby Maroons 45-14 Friday behind the passing of quarterbacks Mike Hillman and Trey Prather.

Three of Hillman's lefthanded tosses went for touchdowns, two to Tommy Morel and one to Kenny Newfield. Prather threw a five-yard scoring pass to Glen Smith and completed eight of 12 throws for 124 yards. Kicking specialist Johnny Domingue booted nine points for LSU, a 27-yard field goal and six conversions. Maroon quarterback Ronnie Coleman completed 9 of 19 passes for 73 yards and a touchdown. Harry Ivey caught the scoring pass just before halftime. Mississippi State scored in the second half on Andy Rhoades' 54-yard run. LSU led 20-9 in first downs, 180-104 in rushing yardage and 220-73 in passing.

Dutch Harrison To Perform At MUNY Course
Dutch Harrison, a member of the golf Hall of Fame, will put on an exhibition at the Municipal Golf Course Sunday Nov. 14. Along with the exhibition, a golf clinic will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. with the exhibition match following, according to Johnny Myers, club pro. Harrison, who has won the National Senior Open championship four times while playing on the Ryder Cup team, will battle Alvin Dark, of baseball fame, Gray Little, pro at the Lake Charles course that is holding the $10,000 golf tournament, and John Cook, defending champ of the meet.

Sulphur, 25-20
ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Second-ranked Sulphur held off a second half rally by Bolton Friday night before winning 25-20 in a District 2-AAA football game. Sulphur quarterback Roger Ledoux scored from the four and then set up the Tors' second touchdown when he passed 35 yards to Gerald Spell on the one. Spell carried it over on the next play. The passing of Mike Kelsey kept Bolton in contention. He scored one touchdown and threw for another. Bolton got another marker on a 50-yard pass play from Paul Piazza, who fad laced a screen from Kelsey, to Lance Farmer.

Newellton Wins

NEWELLTON (Special) — Newellton scratched out a 7-6 victory over St. Frederick here Friday night in a district game. St. Frederick scored in the first quarter when Pete Laws ran over from two yards out, capping a 22 yard drive after recovering a fumble. The extra point was blocked. Newellton scored in the second quarter on a three yard run by Phil Price. The extra point was run over on a quarterback sneak. St. Frederick was moving in the waning seconds with a complete pass on the Newellton 10 yard line but the clock ran out before another play could be executed. St. Frederick is now 2-6 while Newellton is 3-4.

Airline Rolls
BASTROP (Special) — Airline's Vikings rolled over Bastrop here Friday night 38 - 14 in a non - district match. The Vikings scored in the first quarter on a 31 - yard run by Jim West. The point after was missed. Rudy Estes scampered 77 yards for the second Viking TD, coming in the second quarter. The point was kicked by Kilpatrick. Airline scored again in the second quarter with Estes going over from 10 yards. The PAT was by Kilpatrick. In the third quarter Estes again rambled across, hitting from six yards out with Kilpatrick's kick good. Bastrop scored their first touchdown in the third quarter on a pass from Jimmy Gilbert to Jimmy Clark, covering seven yards. Wayne Reilly kicked the point. Mike Poole threw to Jim West for five yards and another Viking touchdown in the fourth quarter for five yards. The point was missed. The Vikings scored again with 2:30 left in the game on a 17-yard pass from Poole to Estes. The kick was off. Bastrop scored with 20 seconds when Ronnie Grimmer went over from two yard out. Reilly kicked the extra point. Bastrop's record is now 0-4-1 in district and 2-5-1 overall. Bastrop 0 0 7 7-17 Airline 6 13 7 12-38

Jonesboro 34-0
JONESBORO (Special) — The Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers capped off Homecoming activities with a 34-0 victory over Winnfield here Friday night and at the same time assured themselves of at least a playoff berth in District 2-AA. The Jonesboro Tigers meet the Ruston Bearcats Nov. 12, in a game that will probably decide the loop championship. Jonesboro used a first half spurt that netted three tallies, added touchdowns in the second and third stanzas and blanked the Winnfield Tigers to take the win. In the first quarter, fullback Jack Branch opened the scoring parade with a 29 yard touchdown run and end Randy Toms added the extra point, with a kick. Another Jonesboro fullback, Bobby Earle, chalked up the second tally in the opening stanza with an 81 yard touchdown scamper on his only carry of the night. The PAT attempt failed. A 37 yard pass from Jonesboro quarterback Randy Phillips to end Tommy Wilson was good for the third touchdown of the quarter and Toms kick the PAT. Halfback Leslie Mize scored for Jonesboro in the second period on a 28 yard run. Jonesboro left the field at halftime with a 27-0 lead. Mize scored the final Jonesboro touchdown in the third stanza on a 20 yard run. Toms kicked the extra point. Mize was the leading Jonesboro rusher with 109 yards on 10 carries. Don Tichner and Toms were outstanding for Jonesboro on defense. Tichner intercepted a fourth period Winnfield pass and returned the ball about 50 yards to halt a Tiger drive. Toms blocked a Winnfield punt in the second quarter to set up the tally by Mize. Score by quarters: JH 20 7 7 0-34 JH-Jack Branch, 29 yard run. Randy Toms PAT. JH-Bobby Earle, 81 yard run. PAT failed. JH-Tommy Wilson, 37 yard pass from Randy Phillips. Toms kick PAT. JH-Leslie Mize, 28 yard run. Toms PAT. JH-Mize, 20 yard run. Toms kick PAT.

Carroll Loses
Bobby Yancey threw two touchdown passes and ran for another Friday night to give Peabody of Alexandria a 27-20 victory over Carroll High in a AAA contest in Monroe. Yancey tossed a 53 yard strike to Ike Dorsey in the second quarter and hit Dorsey again with a two yard scoring pass in the fourth period. In the second Yancy skipped over from two yards out. Raymond Jones dashed 48 yards for the other Peabody score with Grady Thomas kicking good three of four PAT's. In the first quarter, Jimmy Burrell jumped on a blocked punt in the Peabody end zone to give Carroll the first score of the game. Robert Gene scored on a one yard plunge and Johnny Long kicked good his second conversion of the night. Later in the second period Ansel Johnson dashed 11 yards for a score with a fumble recovery and the Bulldogs carried a 20-14 lead into the dressing room at half. Carroll is now 6-3 in all games and 0-1 in the conference. Peabody is undefeated but once tied in eight games and is 1-0 in the league. The Bulldogs continue conference action Friday night with a game against Morehouse.

Stokley-Led Tigs Face Mississippi
JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Nelson Stokley will try to crack the 1,000 - yard barrier today against Mississippi, and if the little Louisiana State quarterback succeeds the Tigers' Southeastern Conference title hopes still should be flaming. Stokley, a sophomore, needs 99 yards running and passing to hit the mark, and that kind of a performance for the nation's fifth-ranked team should be enough to turn back Mississippi's upset bid. The Rebels' will try to stop Stokley with a pair of massive defenders, 240-pound tackle Jim Urbanek and 218-pound guard Jimmy Keyes. Both are sophomores and have been standouts all fall in what started as the worst season ever under Coach Johnny Vaught. The Rebels lost three straight—all in the conference—before starting a surge that has taken them easily past their last two foes. Louisiana State Coach Charlie McClendon, knowing a loss would snuff the Tigers' bid for the football crown, has his fingers crossed for the afternoon half of a day-night doubleheader that matches Alabama and Mississippi State tonight. The Tigers have a 1-1 conference mark, and no team has ever won the title with two losses. The game is the last on the road for Louisiana State, which plays seven games at home this fall before fiercely partisan crowd. "This will be a tough one for us," McClendon said. "Mississippi has been looking forward to this game all fall. Those boys like to beat us." The Rebels will have to stop Stokley, halfback Joe Labruzzo and a handful of other running threats to whip the Tigers. Mississippi hopes rest on the running of halfback Mike Dennis and the running and passing of quarterback Jimmy Heidel, who hit their stride in victories over Vanderbilt and Tulane. The game is the 54th in the bruising rivalry which started in 1894. Louisiana State won last year 11-10, and leads the series 29-22-2.

SEC Hopefuls Risk Chances

By The Associated Press
Five Southeastern Conference title contenders risk their chances today in a schedule that should shed some light on the still-muddled championship chase. Georgia and Tennessee are the only teams in the running not endangering their hopes. Georgia will try to snap a two-game losing string at North Carolina, and Tennessee is idle. Florida, Louisiana State, Mississippi State, Alabama and Auburn face virtual elimination if they stumble against conference rivals. Most of the action will take place at Jackson, Miss., where a day-night doubleheader will attract about 96,000 paying customers and keep the kids off the street. Jackson officials have asked youngsters to go Halloween trick-or-treating Friday night, so football fans can have the city today. The twin bill features two of the nation's top-ranked teams, fifth-rated Louisiana State and 10th-ranked Alabama. Louisiana State, 1-1 in conference play, meets Mississippi in the afternoon. Alabama, with a league mark of 3-1-1, plays Mississippi State, 1-1, at night. While those teams battled in the spotlighted games, Florida will try to replace Auburn as the co-leader of the conference race. The Gators, with a 2-1 league mark, play at Auburn's stadium, where they have never won, in a regionally televised game. Auburn has a conference mark of one victory and a tie, and shares the lead with Georgia. Victory in Florida's last road game would enhance the hopes of the Gators to take the title which they never have taken. Auburn was stunned 3 - 0 by Southern Mississippi last week but the Tigers should not be awed by Florida passing whiz Steve Spurrier. Auburn beat Rick Norton, Kentucky's great passer, early in the season in one of the big conference upsets. Mississippi will try to spring another big surprise against Louisiana State, which isn't taking the Rebels lightly. Ole Miss, which was knocked out of the race with three straight conference defeats, is riding a two-game winning streak. Nelson Stokley, LSU's fancy sophomore quarterback, needs only 99 yards running and passing in the game to hit the 1,000-yard mark.

Another of the standout quarterbacks in the league, Alabama's Steve Sloan, is a doubtful participant for the Crimson Tide against slumping Mississippi State. Sloan has rib injuries but has no been ruled out. Fleet Marcus Rhoden will be called on to snap Mississippi State out of a two-game losing streak. Vanderbilt and Tulane, already out of the title chase, play at New Orleans, Kentucky entertains West Virginia. In other area games, Georgia Tech hosts Duke in a regionally televised battle. Southern Mississippi plays at William and Mary, and Florida State hosts Virginia Tech.

STATE FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

show by Alvin "Moose" Frazer, upended the Bears in an important district 2-A conference game here Friday night, 20-0. The Viking defensive unit, by middle guard Ronnie Hebert and end Gary Morgan, completely bottled up the Bears. Vidalia's offensive rolled up 199 yards rushing and 50 yards passing, including a five-yard scoring pass in the second quarter, a 66-yard touchdown dash by Frazer in the fourth period, and a sweep to paydirt by tailback Edwin Barlow after cornerback Billy Wiggins intercepted a Delhi pass to set up the score. Frazer took a pass from Ricky Lane for the second period TD, and "Buddy" Spillers kicked the point. The score remained 7-0 until the last quarter when Frazer got away on his long scamper, Spillers again booting the point. Barlow's final TD came on a one yard end sweep. "Porky" Curtis was outstanding in the Delhi defensive, intercepting two passes and otherwise playing a good game along with end Shelton Hosea and guards Gary Roberts and Mike Jones. Vidalia led in first downs, 14-4, and had a total offense of 249 yards, completed five of 11 passes and had two interceptions. Delhi couldn't connect on six passes, had one intercepted.

Trojans Travel

TALLULAH (Special) — Tallulah's Trojans romped over LaSalle of Olla here Friday night in a District 2-A contest, winning 24 - 0. The Trojans scored in the first quarter after recovering a fumble on the LaSalle 33-yard line. Seven plays later Johnny Mills passed to Johnny Varner for five yards and the touchdown. Gene Crawford kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead. In the third quarter, Tallulah took a 52 - yard drive in nine plays with Mills going around end from four yards out. Crawford's kick was good. After the third quarter ended with Tallulah on LaSalle's one-yard line, the Trojans swapped ends on the field and sent Terry Russell through the middle for the touchdown. Again Crawford's kick was good for a 21-0 lead. Tallulah's final score came on a 15 - yard field goal with 15 seconds remaining in the game for their 24 - 0 win. Tallulah is now 4 - 2 in district competition.

Bernice Rallies
JUNCTION CITY, Ark. (Special) — Bernice rallied for 12 points in the last quarter to defeat Junction City and spoil the host's homecoming, 12-6, here Friday night. The Bears put together an 85-yard drive midway through the final period behind the hard running of fullback Ronnie Harris, who scored the touchdown from 15 yards away. The run for the extra point failed. Then with the score tied 6-6 and only 1:30 to go, Dennis Reeves plunged over from the one. The quarterback's score was set up when Robert Brazel picked off a Junction City aerial at the host's 41. Again the PAT run failed. Junction City's only score came in the first period when Langley picked up a Bernice fumble on his own 45 and went all the way. The run failed. Bernice, now 3-5, travel to Holly Ridge Thursday in its next encounter.

Tigers Roll
OAK GROVE (Special) — The Oak Grove Tigers scored at least once in every quarter to defeat Winnboro 40-14 and boost themselves into a tie in district 2-A with the Lake Providence Panthers who had an open date Friday night. Harvey Hemphill lead the scoring parade with a two-yard plunge for the Tigers' first score in the opening stanza. Quarterback Jim Boyles kicked the PAT. Eugene O'Neal scored on a two-yard plunge and Mike Pollard on a 41-yard reception from Boyles in the second quarter. Both PAT's failed. In the third quarter, Hemphill tallied from seven yards out. Boyles kicked the point after. Winnboro's Ronnie Stephens scored on a 23-yard pass from Lee Pankey in the third quarter. Mike Lord kicked the PAT. Tommy Baldwin scored the other Winnboro touchdown on a five-yard scamper. Lord kicked the point after. Boyles threw a touchdown pass for 13 yards to David Butler and Roy Carothers plunged from one yard out to cap the Oak Grove scoring.

Knights Hold
SHREVEPORT (Special) — Woodlawn held off a last quarter drive by Ruston, took over and ran out the clock at State Fair Stadium Friday night to edge out the Bearcats 21-14. The victory gave the erratic Knights a 6-1-1 record for the campaign while the District 2-AA Bearcats fell to 3-5 for the season. Unable to run with any consistency through the beefy Ruston line, the Knights tallied twice on Terry Bradshaw passes and got their middle score on a 59 yard end run by fullback Bobby Brown. Ruston, sticking on the ground, scored on marches of 80 yards in the second quarter and 34 stripes in the third. In the second, Ruston scored with Allen Shorey going over from the one yard line. Gary Crawford converted on a run. In the third, Ruston's Bruce Jackson hit into the zone from the three and Jackson then boot-

Pistons Top Celts 108-106
DETROIT (AP) — Ray Scott bagged a short turn around jump shot with two seconds left to play Friday night and enabled the Detroit Pistons to beat the Boston Celtics 108-106. It was the first time since Feb. 24, 1964, that the Pistons had managed to beat the world champions. It was only their second triumph in 28 games over a three-year period with the Celtics. Trailing 60-40 at the half and 91-80 with four minutes of the final period gone, the Pistons roared back on the shooting of Eddie Miles and rookie Bill Buntim, finally going ahead for the first time on a jumper by Miles. After Detroit opened a five-point bulge and then a four-point lead with less than two minutes to go, Willie Naulls and Sam Jones hit for jumpers — the latter with 19 seconds remaining — to tie the score at 106-106. Then came Scott's decisive shot. Miles, with 36 points and Scott with 18 led the Pistons who now stand 3-3. A 51-point effort by Sam Jones went down the drain for the Celtics. The setback was the third in a row for Boston against two victories and marked one of the rare times in the last nine years the Celtics have dropped behind the .500 mark.

Royals Beat Bullets 131-121
BALTIMORE (AP) — Oscar Robertson scored 33 points and set a Civic Center record with 15 assists as he led the Cincinnati Royals to a 131-121 National Basketball Association victory over the Baltimore Bullets Friday night. Robertson, who tried only 12 shots in the first half while contending himself with the feeder's role, took charge at the start of the third period and put the same out of reach of the Bullets. The Big O sank five of his first six shots after intermission and scored 11 points as the Royals outscored Baltimore 24-10 in the first seven minutes and spurred to an 88-71 lead. Cincinnati led 64-61 at halftime. Adrian Smith of the Royals scored 12 of his 18 points in the third quarter while the Royals outscored Baltimore 38-30. Robertson finished the period with 14 points. Robertson's 15 assists bettered by one the 14 he recorded in the Civic Center on March 1, 1964. Cincinnati led 93-73 with four minutes left in the third quarter.

Keith Prince GSC Grid Race Still Scrambled

In approximately 20 days the Gulf States Conference football schedule will come to a halt for 1965. Tonight's action will be either the sixth or seventh game for just about every team in the league and all played at least two conference games.

With the season half over, it would seem probable that one team should draw a heavy nod for the GSC title. But this isn't the case.

No less than three teams are rated "good" chances for the title while another is a "possible." And Louisiana Tech which has already lost twice is still considered in the running by some.

Northeast is the only club with three league losses at present. The big three on the totem pole now are Southeastern, McNeese (both unbeaten, 2-0) and Southwestern. Northeast is 1-1, as is Southwestern, but not considered too much of a threat after its annual slaughter at the hands of Tech.

If we had to pick a final position for each team, without leaving room for a possible tie, here's the way we would go right now: McNeese, Southwestern, Southeastern, Louisiana Tech, Northwestern and Northeast.

However, the opinion here is that there will not be an undisputed champion this season. In fact we believe four teams will be involved in the first two positions.

Here is the way we see the finish of the race with records included:

1-2. McNeese 4-1, Southwestern 4-1, tie.

3-4. Southeastern 3-2, La. Tech 3-2, tie.

5. Northwestern State 1-4.

6. Northeast State 0-5.

So what must happen in the remainder of the schedule for the standings to end up this way? Just this:

McNeese will defeat Northwestern in Natchitoches, beat Southeastern in Lake Charles and lose to Southwestern in Lafayette.

Southwestern will defeat Northeast in Lafayette, defeat Northwestern in Lafayette and

Super Dud Rides Again

You didn't know it but the Super Dud came through with a real dilly last week. Of course, we realize this may reflect on us somewhat — since we are the Dud's sole guardian — but we've just got to pass on to you this wild trick by the foolish forecaster.

Last Saturday's column had already been written and sent back to be set. It was Friday night, 10 p.m., and the weekly mad scramble of prep game telephone calls were coming in.

We went to check the sports wire for other games and low and behold the game story on Mississippi State and Tulane was just moving on the wire.

But how could that be? The Dud's predictions for Saturday morning had included that game among those to be played Saturday night. Still, that wasn't the worst part. The Dud was going berserk, he couldn't let that prediction get in the paper.

We were correct on 23 of 31 picks for a .742 mark and the seasonal total crept up seven points to .713 on 124 right, 50 wrong and seven ties.

Here's a look at this week's mumbo-jumbo:

GULF STATES CONFERENCE: East Carolina 24, Northeast 6 — This is expected to be the best club Tribe plays this year. ## New Experiences For Tribe Gridders

Northeast faces a couple of new experiences tonight when it plays East Carolina at Ouachita High Stadium, starting at 8 p.m. And both experiences are expected to give the Tribe nothing but trouble.

The contest against East Carolina marks the first time in Northeast's history that it has played a major college opponent and also is one of the few times a Tribe team has faced a single wing foe.

Tonight's tilt is the final home appearance of the campaign for Northeast which has two other games remaining.

East Carolina, newest member of the Southern Conference, has used the power of its single wing attack to flatten West Chester, 27-6; Richmond, 34-13; Louisville, 34-20; and The Citadel, 21-0. The Pirates have lost only to Furman, 14-7.

Northeast has lost five straight games — all but one of them by narrow margins — since opening the season with a 5-0 victory over Southeast Missouri. The losses have come at the hands of Delta State, 23-0; Northwestern, 17-12; Louisiana College, 13-12; McNeese and Southeastern, both by 14 - 6 scores.

Pacemaker of the East Carolina offense is fullback Dave Alexander, who gained 888 yards rushing and scored 96 points in 1964.

Northeast's top offensive weapon is freshman quarterback Steve Mansur, who staged a dazzling offensive show last week against Southeastern, completing 15 of 29 passes for 181 yards and rushing for 19. The Tribe's leading rusher, fullback Bobby Scafidel, is out for the season with a broken thumb.

Senior Charles Bailey will be an offensive fullback for the Indians while Scafidel will be replaced on defense by halfback Chick Whistler, who will play both ways today.

Northeast was primarily a running team in its opening games but had good success passing against Louisiana College and especially against Southeastern last week. Ends Floyd Giblin and Kenneth Holland and halfback Lynn Mitchell are three of Northeast's best receivers.

Although the running of Alexander is East Carolina's major offensive weapon, the Pirates have a good runner - passer in tailback George Richardson and usually throw the ball well. Last year they gained 1,405 yards through the air and 2,032 on the ground for a healthy 343.7-yard total offense average per game.

To stop this attack, Northeast will have the usual front five of ends Tommy Lewis and Charles Rohner, tackles Preston Hollier and Ronnie Sumter and middleguard Andy Mapp. The linebackers will be Wayne Cunningham and Wayne Armbrister and Larry Johnson, Thomas Eddleman and Alton Thomas will join Whistler in the defensive secondary. Mansur is also likely to spend some time as a defensive back also.

Following tonight's game, Northeast will end its season with Gulf States Conference road games against Southwestern Nov. 6 and Louisiana Tech Nov. 20.

The Louisiana Tigers are rampant with what it takes, boasting a swash - buckling backfield and one of the biggest and best lines in college football.

Noteworthy names in the near-impenetrable defense include big Frank Cornish, 285 - pound tackle; Willie Young, 255-pound guard; James Todd, 225-pound end; Norman Davis, 256-pound tackle; John Gray, 280-pound tackle; and Larry Metevia, 228-pound center.

Cornish and Young are prime All - American candidates and their stellar efforts attract star gazers each time they bump into a ball carrier.

All - American fullback Henry Dyer, is the backfield's Johnny-on-the-spot.

Pro scouts call him the best in the country. Dell Sports Magazine rates him the nation's No. 2 prospect among "college football's 11 most wanted players."

Halfbacks Leroy Carter, Essex Johnson, Goldie Sellers, fullback Charles Washington, and quarterbacks Eddie Robinson Jr., and James Harris are all top hands in the local talent incubator.

Halfback Roy Hopkins, quarterback John Douglas and end Willie Porter are the muscle-men in coach Jack Paul's bouncey model - T attack.

Their air efforts will give Grambling old grads something to talk about.

Grambling leads the Southwestern Athletic Conference with a 4-1 league mark as compared with TSU's 1-3-1 record.

Gary Player Regains Lead By Equaling First Round 62

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Gary Player, the dapper little golfer from South Africa, went on another hot streak Saturday and regained the lead from Jack Nicklaus in the third round of the Australian Open Championship.

At the end of the 54 holes Player held a four-stroke lead over the Columbus, Ohio, belter, 135 to 199.

Player started off with eagle threes on the first two holes, finished the front nine in 29 and came back in 33 for an 11-under-par 62 to equal his first round score.

This gave him a 54-hole total of 195, 24-under-par for the 6, 578-yard, par 73 Kooyonga course. He had a chance for a 61, but missed a 14-foot putt on the 18th.

Spotlight To Shine On Division Fights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Focus will be on the two tight division races Sunday as the National Football League reaches the midseason point, with key games for the front-runners in both conferences.

The Green Bay Packers, only unbeaten team in the NFL with their 6-0 record, play the resurgers Bears at Chicago. Baltimore, second in the West at 5-1, takes on the high-scoring 49ers at San Francisco.

In the Eastern Division, Cleveland's pacesetter Browns are at home to the Minnesota Vikings and the St. Louis Cardinals meet the off-and-on Giants at New York. Cleveland is 5-1, St. Louis 4-2.

Top features in the American Football League pair the winless Boston Patriots against the unbeaten Chargers at San Diego and the Houston Oilers against the Bills at Buffalo in an Eastern Division highlight.

Also on Sunday's schedule —

In the NFL: Dallas at Pittsburgh, Detroit at Los Angeles and Philadelphia at Washington; in the AFL: Oakland at Kansas City and Denver at New York.

Green Bay has been lacking in its usual productive rushing attack, but has swept to six straight victories behind Bart Starr's passing and a tough, opportunistic defense.

The Packers clipped Chicago 23-14 in their earlier game, but the Bears since had won three straight. Bear quarterback Rudy Bukich currently leads NFL passers and his backfield mate, rookie Gale Sayers, has been outstanding.

The Colts and 49ers also are in a rematch. Their first one went to the Colts by a 27-24 score at Baltimore. Sunday's game should produce an exciting quarterback duel between Baltimore's Johnny Unitas and San Francisco's John Brodie.

Cleveland's primary job shapes up as defensive — containing Minnesota's explosive attack. Of course, the Vikings' defense has shown definite vulnerability and will get a real workout, from Jim Brown's running and Frank Ryan's passing.

Charlie Johnson might start at quarterback — which is good news for the Cardinals, woe-some news for the rebuilt, rookie-packed Giants. Johnson was on the sidelines with a sore shoulder last Sunday, and St. Louis was upset by Washington 24-20. With Johnson in form the Cardinals are likely to be too much for the reshuffled Giants, who have ranged from dazzling to dismal in splitting their first six games.

The Chargers and Patriots participated in one of the AFL season's biggest shockers two weeks ago in Boston when the Patriots held the Western Division leaders to a 13-13 tie. But last week San Diego smothered New York 34-9, bringing its record to 5-0-2, and Boston lost its sixth, 30-21 to Oakland.

The Chargers have remarkable all-round strength and dominate the league statistics, both as a team and in individual performances. They reached a peak three weeks ago in a 34-3 triumph over the Buffalo Bills, defending AFL champions and generally regarded as the league's top entry.

Since the debacle against the Chargers, the Bills have rebounded with two decisive victories for a 6-1 record. Buffalo has come a long way in solving a nagging problem, created by the loss of pass catching ace Elbert Dubeau and Glenn Bass, with a rebuilt receiving crew that is getting the job done.

Sunday's game against Houston has more than passing significance for the Bills since the Oilers, at 3-3, pose the only threat to the Bills' drive to another Eastern title.

Flower Show Discussed By Garden Club

"The Principles of a Flower Show" was the theme of the talk given by Mrs. J. H. Chaudoir, Director of the Eighth District Garden Clubs at the October meeting of the Olla Pinewood Garden Club in the home of Mrs. L. K. Wood recently.

Mrs. Chaudoir explained the purpose of a flower show, including the staging of a good show, the chairmen required, the duties of each, the judges, and the types of classes.

Following a discussion of the points brought out by Mrs. Chaudoir, members were asked to select a subject for arrangements to be shown at the November meeting in the La Salle Library. The theme of that program will be "Nature's Bounty".

As always the club will sponsor the Christmas Lighting Contest in Olla, but decided to give only one prize this year. All other entries that place will receive honorable mention.

Members selected to attend the District meeting in Alexandria, October 26, are Mrs. T. P. McDaniel, Mrs. T. (Buck) Tullos, Mrs. J. E. Burris, Mrs.

Halloween Activities Of Today's Teenagers

By MINTA REILY GOYNE

Halloween is here with miniature ghosts and goblins wandering the streets on Saturday night with their cries of "Trick or Treat". Using vivid imagination, they wonder what's behind that next bush and was that a satellite (even your four-year-old) or a witch that just flew across the face of the 'ole man in the moon. For them Halloween is the time to sneak into the empty house down the street and run from the shadowy ghost in the living room.

For parents, Halloween is a time of constantly answering the front door and enjoying it. A time for stocking up on all sorts of interesting candies, only to find that by Halloween night your own child has eaten half. But despite sick stomachs, candy on the living room rug and the neighborhood "trickster" . . . Halloween is FUN. It is a part of the spirit of Fall.

Everyone knows what the kiddies do on the 'mystic' night, but what about the boy or girl who is beginning to feel just a little bit silly about ghost and goblin hunting . . . the teenager. Does he or she miss out on the fun . . . not a bit.

A party . . . a big, spooky, scrumptious, fun-filled party is favored by the teen. Music and games alternate with appropriate pranks to provide an exciting evening.

One such event occurred Friday night when the eighth grade fun club members gathered for a festive costume party which they had been eagerly awaiting for weeks.

A large variety of costumes, ranging from the traditional weird creatures of Halloween, Beatles, Romans and a 'barrel girl' who called themselves the "Flintstones", brightened the festive setting, making it hard for the judges to decide on the winners.

Then, upon the stage, appeared the man of the hour, a magician. With the flash of his hand the atmosphere of Halloween was felt by those assembled.

Apples strung from the ceiling provided "bobbing" without a soaking and added appropriate spice to the affair. Informal contests and games kept everyone hopping leaving exhausted but happy teenagers.

Tonight is the big night for the older teens. They will be welcomed to the big Halloween dance hosted by the students of St. Frederick High School. Orange and black streamers, jack-o-lanterns, witches and spooky skeletons have transformed the school's gymnasium into a den for dancing devilry.

Under the glowing eyes of pumpkins these teens will enjoy their Halloween dancing to the appropriate music of the "Beatles", "Animals" and "Herman's Hermits," via recordings for the occasion.

As the bewitching hour nears, they will gather for the crowning of a King and Queen of Halloween.

The teenagers will have their treats, of this you may be sure, and maybe a few tricks; But one word of caution . . . be careful . . . "Cause, the goblins will get you if you don't watch out."

Big Brother's Big Contract

By CHARMAINE RINI
World Staff Writer

Honesty, Interest, Industry, Tolerance, Sobriety — These are the five points of an unwritten contract between a releasee from Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola and his Big Brother. The Big Brother is a volunteer from Alcoholics Anonymous and the releasee is a member of the AA fellowship in the prison called the Sober Group.

Realizing the special needs and problems of the incarcerated alcoholic, a Big Brother plan was established at the state prison sponsored by the Monroe group of A.A. in April of 1964.

The Big Brother organization, which is one of six in the nation, will hold its first convention Sunday at Angola, discussing plans to expand the program to another penal institution and to alcoholic treatment centers.

During their relatively brief existence, the Big Brothers have witnessed the success of their plan many times — 79 to be exact. For, out of 85 inmates released under the program, only six returned to Angola.

SOBER IN PRISON

When the alcoholic is sentenced to prison, usually for an alcohol-related crime, only one of his problems is temporarily solved. He is forced to remain sober for the duration of his sentence. But, when he is released, he must not only find his place in society; he must remain sober before he can even start. And, this is the ultimate goal of the Big Brother.

In prison, the alcoholic is invited to meetings of the Sober Group, which is actually an "inside" chapter of A.A. Members of A.A. from throughout the state attend their weekly meetings to give counsel, friendship and understanding. By being a member in good standing of the Sober Group, the prisoner can qualify for a Big Brother when he is released or paroled.

The Big Brother meets the parolee or the discharged alcoholic at the prison gate and from there on gives him assistance in readjusting to community life without alcohol.

"This," said the B. B. Committee chairman, "makes the released alcoholic feel welcome in his community again and he has a much better chance of successfully continuing his A.A. way of life outside."

An example of the necessity of such a program in penal institutions can be found in the case of one of the six Sober Group members who returned to prison.

This man, in his twenties, was a group member only a few weeks before he was granted a parole and he didn't request a Big Brother. Consequently, after being confined almost two years, he was on his way, alone, to stay sober and become a useful community member. He hitch hiked to his home town, but before going home, he decided to stop for "just one." He lost complete control and began breaking bottles, furniture, and windows. After just 10 hours as a free man he had violated his parole and was back in prison.

What this man didn't realize is that two years of sobriety did not cure his alcoholism — it was just temporarily arrested.

The alcoholic in prison doesn't fit into the usual rehabilitation programs offered by penal institutions. Some have on the job training to give the inmate an opportunity to learn a trade. Some have programs whereby an inmate can complete his high school education through correspondence courses and go on to higher levels of learning. So, in some cases, the inmate leaves prison in a better position for employment than before he came in.

But this does not apply to the alcoholic. These advancements do not teach him how to manage his life or help him to solve the problems which led him to alcohol in the first place. Often, his problems become more complex and he ends up rebelling against his "forced sobriety" as soon as he is released.

SOLVE PROBLEMS

It is the purpose of the Sober Group and the outside A.A. members who work with the group to help solve these problems. The Big Brother is one means to this end.

The five points of the Big Brother program exemplify the part that each plays in the rehabilitation of the alcoholic ex-prisoner. The Big Brother takes an active, friendly, and sober interest in the releasee who, in turn, must show a real desire for sobriety and a better life.

Having established his good character with A.A., the Big Brother gives counsel on all problems based on his A.A. experience when the releasee shows his interest in A.A. and a desire to become an active member by attending meetings and living by the A.A. principles.

After introducing him to the A.A. members in his community and providing transportation to meetings, the Big Brother expects an honest, willing, and open-minded attitude in the releasee's approach to A.A.

The Big Brother will offer friendly insistence on sobriety, integrity, and participation in A.A. as the releasee shows a determined effort to seek employment and to be industrious and to accept personal, family and community responsibilities.

And, finally, the Big Brother attempts to establish in the releasee a frame of mind whereby he will want to, and be able to help himself attain spiritual, economic and physical benefits.

The success of this program can best be evaluated by the words of a group member who is waiting for his release from Angola. In writing to a Monroe A.A. member who participates in the plan, he said, "... only people like you that have the humility, courage and compassion for their fellowman are willing to help and understand another alcoholic; one, as myself, who by all standards of the average layman could be added to the category of the forgotten men to be left swimming in his own soup. But, no. God works in mysterious ways ... Yes, this is A.A. This is fellowship at its height ..."

Pakistan Says India Building Atom Bomb

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Pakistan suggested Friday that India is deliberately seeking a deadlock on a treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons to gain time to build an atomic bomb and become a member of the nuclear club.

The suggestion was sharply repudiated by Indian Ambassador V.C. Trivedi, who called Pakistan's remarks "intemperate and illogical." He said India started its nuclear program in 1954, even before Communist China — which he termed Pakistan's "newlyfound ally" — but had voluntarily refrained from building nuclear weapons.

The exchange occurred in the U.N. General Assembly's 117-nation main Political Committee, which is deliberating draft treaties submitted by the United States and the Soviet Union on nonproliferation of nuclear weapons.

Agha Shahi of the Pakistan delegation told the committee India has raised "a host of problems" in connection with the proposed treaty which would make agreement "intractable and even impossible."

India is aware, he charged, that its demands that nuclear nations without nuclear ma-

Local School Study Asked By Adcock

Sen. Jamar W. Adcock of Monroe has requested the Louisiana Legislative Council to study the feasibility of splitting Ouachita Parish into two school systems, divided by the Ouachita River.

"Because the overlapping school systems in Ouachita Parish have been a matter of concern for some time, I have requested the Louisiana Legislative Council to conduct a study and present me with findings on the possible separation of the systems," Adcock said Friday. In the parish presently are both City of Monroe and parish systems, an arrangement which the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce said recently results in waste, inequities and overlapping services.

Adcock indicated the study results could be expected in several weeks.

He mentioned specifically the use of the river as a boundary, noting at the same time, however, that it might prove unfeasible, "because of the bonded indebtedness and taxation involved."

The chamber report on the dual school systems has drawn widely divided comment, and the organization has scheduled a public forum for discussion on Nov. 22.

Tidelands Will Be Requested Turned Loose

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. John McKeithen said Friday the U.S. Supreme Court will be asked to remove certain tidelands areas from the federal-state dispute and released impounded revenues from those areas to both sides.

Tidelands negotiations for an interim adjustment have had "considerable success," he said in a statement.

But McKeithen cautioned he couldn't say a complete settlement was in sight that would be satisfactory to Louisiana.

Earlier, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall said that "intense talks" were underway.

One Washington source indicated the Supreme Court might be asked to order release of some tidelands funds held in escrow, but without consulting Louisiana.

Some $800 million is held in escrow by the federal government, representing production revenues over the years from the offshore oil lands in the Gulf of Mexico where Washington recognizes a three-mile seaward limit for the state.

No one has decided where to mark that boundary, because of the rugged coastline.

"Both the United States and the state of Louisiana are now forced to recognize that a portion of the area formerly being contested is no longer in dispute under decrees of the Supreme Court," McKeithen said. "I wish I could tell the people of our state that talks are underway for a complete settlement of the tidelands controversy on a basis satisfactory to Louisiana."

In Washington, Udall had said "whether a partial settlement can be achieved is in doubt at the moment. . . I don't think I can make any other comment."

One report is that oil industry leaders are saying Louisiana may get a 27 per cent overriding royalty—in lieu of taxes—on some parts of the tidelands.

Delta President Sees Doubling Of Traffic In Air

The president and general manager of Delta Air Lines has predicted that the overall volume of air transportation will double in the next 10 years.

C. E. Woolman of Atlanta, Delta's chief operating executive, offered the prediction during his president's report to stockholders at the company's annual meeting here Thursday.

In reporting on the progress of the DC-9 Fanjet, which will be introduced to commercial service in December, Woolman said that "Delta had so much confidence in the performance of Douglas airplanes in the past that we bought over $100 million worth of DC-9s before we had received the first one."

Delta, the world's first airline to buy the Douglas-built short-to-medium range twinjet, has 30 DC-9s on order and an option on 12 more. The first DC-9 was delivered on October 7 and the aircraft is now employed in a pilot training program at Delta's Atlanta headquarters.

All directors of the company were re-elected at the morning meeting. The board of directors opened their regular quarterly meeting in the afternoon, but adjourned until Friday when they reconvened at the airline's general offices in Atlanta. No announcement was made of any action taken during the opening session.

Work Continues On Preparation For Barge Lift

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Engineering work continued Friday in preparations to raise a barge of 600 tons of chlorine from the Mississippi River here.

The office of Gov. John McKeithen asked disabled persons who requested evacuation when the barge is lifted Nov. 8 to be ready to leave here Nov. 5-6, instead of this weekend.

Some 750 old people and invalids have agreed to voluntary evacuation.

Youngsters celebrated Halloween Friday night although the lift day was postponed from Monday. Mayor-President W. W. Dumas said it was too late to change plans to observe the regular day.

Caution Urged For Halloween

James C. Kelly Jr. and West Monroe Chief Johnny Mitchell Friday urged that caution be used by all tonight when Twin City children take to the streets in the guise of witches and goblins.

Motorists were told to be watchful of children celebrating Halloween, moved up a day to accommodate church groups and others who thought Sunday night inappropriate, and parents were asked to escort young children on their rounds.

Both officers said extra patrols would be on duty, and added that "Halloween is a night of fun and not destruction."

OLIN OFFICIALS in West Monroe Friday celebrated the first 20 hours operation of the firm's new kraft paper machine, a 600-foot-long manufacturing giant capable of producing 500 tons of paper per day. Standing by the machine, the sixth at Olin's paper mill, are, left to right: J. A. Bonington, area construction supervisor; M. H. Collet, Forest Products Operation vice president and general manager; B. E. Brooks, vice president, pulp and paper mill; C. A. Shoudy, engineering project manager; and S. A. Elliott, manufacturing superintendent, pulp and paper. Housed separately just north of the other five machines, Number 6 will nearly double the former production capacity of 600 tons per day. Collet complimented work crews, which have worked around the clock to start the machine and bring its production to salable quality.

Insurance, Banking Heads Named In Big Fraud Case

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A Chicago-based group of insurance and banking executives and the Minnesota state insurance commissioner were named Friday in what a federal grand jury called a $4-million fraud case.

The case was linked to the financial failure of a high-risk auto insurance firm, with headquarters in St. Paul.

Phillip Kitzer Sr., 68, Chicago, Commissioner Cyrus E. Magnusson, 61, and 15 other men were named in one count charging conspiracy and 10 counts of fraud by mail, telegram and financial statements.

Magnusson denied any wrongdoing.

Among the others indicted were Jerome M. Sax, 52; John Carroll, 59; and Maurice Jay Mettel, 59, all identified in the indictments as vice presidents of the Exchange National Bank of Chicago.

The Exchange National Bank was not indicted. The three named officers of the bank, the indictment alleges, knowingly participated by loaning money to Kitzer which money was used to build an insurance empire.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Hartley Nord said the bank officials "allowed Kitzer to exhibit, falsely, assets of the company."

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Edward J. Devitt ordered the defendants to be summoned for a preliminary hearing in St. Paul at 10 a.m. Nov. 10.

The jury's probe, which began during the summer, centered on American Allied Insurance Co. of St. Paul.

On Aug. 4, the firm was declared insolvent with $1,249,925 in debts and actual assets far under what it claimed. The liquidation case was initiated in Ramsey County District Court by the state attorney general's office.

American Allied, with more than 100,000 policy in holders in 32 states, specialized in insuring high-risk auto drivers with poor driving records.

The grand jury said that firm and 14 others listed in the indictment were owned, operated and controlled by Kitzer and his sons Phillip Kitzer Jr., 32, and Joseph F. Kitzer, 28. The Kitzers combine siphoned off some $4 million in premium money, it was charged.

It was alleged the conspiracy and fraud were carried out from Aug. 1, 1961, to the present. In addition to Minnesota and Illinois, defendants were named in New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Rocky Marciano, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, conferred with Magnusson here last June when proposals were made to refinance American Allied. Marciano is an official of one of the firms suggested by Magnusson as a possible refinancing company. The ex-boxer was not named in the indictment.

The grand jury said the defendants, "by false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises" represented American Allied to be a financially sound company when it was not.

Children Return To School, Eat In Lunchroom

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Their three-day suspension ended, the Steward children went back to school Friday and each handed over a 35-cent check for lunch in the cafeteria.

For their money, Charles Jr., 13, and Peggy, 8, were served — this is Halloween time, mark you — witches' tuna pie, jack-o-lantern salad, ghosts' bread and butter, spook-faced cupcakes, and just plain milk.

"There you are," the mother reacted. "The pupils aren't allowed to take their own lunches, and what happens? Tuna fish. My kids don't like it. Even those fancy names wouldn't tempt them."

The school accepted the checks with no hint of tongue-in-cheek. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steward Jr. said they wanted the lunches paid for that way in order to have proof of payment.

2 Injured In Plane Crash

JENNINGS, La. (AP) — A private plane crashed Friday near a landing strip here, injuring both men aboard.

Hospitalized with undetermined injuries were Martin Borden Jr. and J. C. Keller, both Eunice businessmen.

The plane was taking off when it crashed. Borden is an auto dealer and Keller is a theater owner.

Stock Buyers At Louisiana Fair Reported

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Kansas City Southern Railroad Friday stuck to its traditional role as top buyer at the annual Junior Livestock Auction at the Louisiana State Fair here, paying a total of $6,615.25 for the grand and reserve champions in the beef division.

Representatives of the railroad paid $4,432.75 to a Bossier Parish 4-H Club member, Bill Meeks, for the grand champion beef on a bid of $4.25 per pound. The railroad also bid in the reserve grand champion beef from Becky Magee of West Feliciana Parish for $2,182.50 on a bid of $2.25 per pound.

Some 519 head of beef, lambs and swine were auctioned.

High bidders paid out a grand total of $80,230.75 for the animals.

Vickie Stohart of Red River Parish broke a pretty smile during the tears as the Monroe Morning World and News-Star. The Shreveport Times and Shreveport radio station KWKH bought her grand champion lamb on a high bid of $12 per pound, a total of $1,056. She said it was to be saved for her college education.

Commercial National Bank bid on Robert Nell William's reserve grand champion lamb at $4 per pound, a total of $348. First National Bank put a total of $1,641.75 on the line for the grand and reserve champion swine. Frank Auer of Red River Parish pocketed $854.25 for the grand champion on a high bid of $4.25 a pound. A Caddo Parish lass, Vickie Williams, got the remaining $787.50 balance for her reserve champion. The high bid by the bank was $3.50 a pound.

Some owners bought the auction animals back at previously agreed upon prices in order to exhibit them at the national show in Chicago.

Friday's grand total, $80,230.75 in auction proceeds was up from last year's $70,810.71, and also exceeded the 1963 total of some $76,000.

The $4.25 paid per pound for Friday's grand champion beef was up five cents from last year. The 1965 grand champion lamb drew $17.50 a pound and the grand champion swine brought in $8 per pound.

Last year's reserve champion high bids were $5 a pound for the lamb, $1.80 for the reserve beef and $2.75 for the swine.

Bidding Friday, as in past years, was spirited for most entries and was pushed along with the support of representatives of a number of firms in Shreveport, Bossier City, Monroe and vicinity as well as elsewhere in the state.

Among the principal buyers was Kansas City Southern Railroad, Commercial National Bank, United Gas Corp., Placid Oil Co., Bossier Bank and Trust Co., Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Sears - Roebuck and Co., First National Bank, News-Morning World and News-Star, The Shreveport Times, Kalmbach - Burkett Co., KWKH Radio Station, Carlton Lyons Sr., Beaird - Poulton Co., Arkansas - Louisiana Gas Co., Atlas Processing Co., Southwestern Electric Power Co., and A. J. Hodges Industries.

Prices paid in the auction, as in other years exceeding the day's market prices, were reported early Friday at 23 cents a pound for swine, 20 cents for lambs and 22 cents for beef.

The agriculture committee of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce co-sponsored the auction with the Louisiana State Fair Association. The chamber committee announced it is purchasing a lamb which Steve Barker of Jeff Davis Parish had intended to put in the ring. The lamb died of injuries received in an accident as the family was en route to the fair.

Louisiana State Singing Meeting Scheduled Here

The fall session of the twice-yearly Louisiana State Singing Convention will be held next Saturday and Sunday in the auditorium of West Monroe High School.

Convention President Dave L. Pearce, the Louisiana agriculture commissioner, Saturday issued a public invitation to "all singers and lovers of gospel music" to attend.

The Saturday program will run from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m., while the convention hours Sunday will be from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Pearce suggested that visitors bring basket lunches to take part in "dinner on the ground" Sunday noon.

An area-oriented group, the state convention was organized over 40 years ago at Downs-ville.

Officials reported that "four or five major gospel music publishers" will be represented during the two days of the convention program.

"Many outstanding singers and groups" will come from throughout Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas. Among the well-known quartets and trios expected are the Stamps Trio and The Texans Quartet.

Popular piano player Joe Roper will attend.

Moral, Courage Of Viet Cong Is High Despite Disease And War Losses

PLEI ME, South Viet Nam — "If their morale is low and (AP) — A grimy, bearded U.S. they're underfed and suffering Special Forces soldier who was from malaria, I'd hate to fight on the winning side in the week-tem when they're fit," said Pfc. long battle of Plei Me paid his Eugene Tafuya of Albuquerque, respects wryly today to the Viet N.M. Cong, who lost. The Red enemy took 750 casualties, but displayed tough fighting spirit until their final withdrawal in midweek after the arrival of massive U.S. and South Vietnamese relief forces. Intelligence reports made public in Saigon sometimes tend to picture the Communist jungle forces as haggard, hunted men American from low morale caused by food shortages, sickness and repeated bombings by American planes. As a matter of fact, one of the two captives taken in the Plei Me fighting has malaria and he said the disease is prevalent in his regiment. But the Viet Cong fought so well, with such displays of individual courage, that Maj. Charles Beckwith of Atlanta, Ga., was moved to comment: "If I had 200 of those guys I could sweep the whole country clean."

Beckwith was referring specifically to one man, a North Vietnamese who charged from hiding at a South Vietnamese platoon on patrol just outside the camp. He was armed only with two grenades, but his unexpected assault so unnerved the platoon that it broke and ran without firing a shot. The Communist was killed by an American firing from inside the camp. Beckwith called the forces that tried to overrun the camp "dedicated, well-trained, highly motivated, excellent soldiers."

U.S. troops who have met the Viet Cong in major engagements consider as highly dangerous a feeling prevalent among some freshly arrived U.S. combat units that one American is worth any 10 of the diminutive Viet Cong. They also deplore a propaganda line sometimes heard in Saigon that the Viet Cong will win has been seriously undermined. "Let them come the hell out here and find out how dispirited these guys are," said a sergeant in filthy fatigues after helping a group of government wounded to a helicopter for evacuation. American respect for the foe war built up during the Plei Me battle by such incidents as these: Machine gunners fired on U.S. aircraft trying to knock out their positions despite days of heavy bombing. Emplacements sometimes were obscured by smoke from napalm, but the tracers continued to try to seek out the American jets. Some did.

Camp Defenders Fought Well

PLEI ME, Viet Nam (UPI)—"My men fought like hell. The proof of that is the fact that this camp is still standing here."

Col. Robert McKean, com-mander of all Special Forces units in Viet Nam, in those words Friday summed up the week-long battle with the Viet Cong for this central highlands Special Forces camp. "When they first hit this place I picked out the toughest hardnoses in Special Forces and shipped them up here on the double," Col. McKean said. Who did Col. McKean pick out as the toughest fighters in an elite outfit where every man is a tough fighter? Some of those who stood the last roll call before leaving after the battle was over Thursday were:

Maj. Charles Beckwith of Atlanta, Ga., Maj. Charles H. Thompson of Morristown, Tenn., Sgt. Robert E. Shaw of Babylon, N.Y., Sgt. Terry Morrone of Allentown, Pa., Sgt. Larry R. Dickinson of Miami, Fla., Sgt. Richard P. Loughlin of Fayetteville, N.C., Pfc. Eugene A. Tafuya of Albu-querque, N.M.
